FIRE DAMAGES MANILA ALTAR

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 5.—(Friday) —(UP)—A magnesium flare, used to illuminate the world's largest altar in connection with the 33rd Eucharistic congress, ignited burning on the altar today and caused a momentary stampede.

A Boy Scout usher was burned but the altar was not damaged seriously.

The incident occurred as more than 100,000 men, most of whom were carrying lighted candles, massed around the altar in Luneta square, Manila's largest public meeting place, for communion during pontifical mass, celebrated in the early morning hours.

Dozens of magnesium flares illuminated the altar as Archbishop O'Doherty of Manila celebrated the mass.

After the ceremony, Archbishop John J. Mitty of San Francisco admonished the Filipinos:

"Oh, you the last born of commonwealths. Hold fast that which you have. Fight the good fight. Keep the faith. May another Manila galleon go forth once again from these shores, freighted not with mere material riches of the Orient but laden with the graces of the Holy Eucharist."

HARWOOD URGES FUND COMMITTEE

Establishment of an advisory committee of three members to handle expenditure of funds derived through the annual President's Birthday ball is being proposed by President Frank Harwood, general chairman in charge of this year's successful affair.

Harwood has interviewed officers of the Orange County Crippled Children's society and they have approved the proposal, he said today.

Under the plan suggested by Harwood, one member of the advisory committee will be a member of the Orange County Crippled Children's society and the two remaining members will be selected from among Santa Ana civic leaders.

Harwood said that, under his plan, all money derived through the annual events will be spent in Santa Ana for the relief of crippled children.

The Orange County Crippled Children's society will recommend cases to be helped from the fund and will supervise the expenditures.

Seek Review Of Board's Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—A petition was on file with the U. S. Circuit court of appeals today asking that court to review and set aside the National Labor Relations board ruling directing publisher of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer to re-instate Frank and Philip Everhardt, discharged employees, and to pay them their salaries from the time of their dismissal.

The petition was filed under the name of William Randolph Hearst, Hearst Publications, and contended that the N. L. R. B. ruling was based in part on the Wagner act and that act was unconstitutional.

Strike of editorial workers at the paper, which forced its 15 suspension for more than a month.

Illinois City Wins Flood Water Fight

CREWS RUSH LEVEE WORK IN ARKANSAS

Crisis on Mississippi River
Expected to Continue
Two Weeks

CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 4.—(UP)—The crest of a $500,000,000 flood swung out of the Ohio river into the Mississippi today and started on the long roll down to the gulf.

In its immediate path were Hickman, Mo., and New Madrid, Mo., both protected by walls and levees that are part of the billion-dollar flood protection system erected by the United States army and scores of river communities.

Farther down, south of Memphis, Millwood, Ark., braced a shaky dike that rested on an uncertain foundation of sand. Helena, Ark., built below the river level—bulwarked its flood wall.

Cairo believed it had met and mastered the river's crest. The gauge on the sloping concrete wall here still was erratic. It bobbed up toward 60 feet today. Engineers said it probably would rise and fall around 55-1.2 feet several days.

The concrete wall its 60 feet high. On top of it there has been built a three-foot bulkhead of soil and timber. The chief danger to Cairo was that wind would kick up waves that might weaken the bulkhead.

The worst flood tragedy in this section was extended with the recovery of five more unidentified bodies from a spillway near New Madrid, Mo., where a barge, carrying 100 men, sank in the strong-running water.

That raised the total of known dead to 20, and there still were nine missing.

President Roosevelt's flood commission prepared to head up the Ohio, optimistic that the levees would hold all along the 1,200-mile line to New Orleans.

The crisis, however, is expected to last two weeks. Engineers said that the two worst things that could happen now would be heavy rains and adverse winds at places where the levees and walls were weak.

REMOVE LOUISVILLE QUARANTINE RESTRICTIONS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Health department officials believed Louisville definitely freed of threats of epidemic today and planned immediate lifting of remaining quarantine restrictions in flood districts.

Restrictions were lifted from half the quarantine area which originally covered more than 12 square miles. The rest of the area will be opened today or tomorrow if a final inspection shows the district safe for habitation.

The city remained without heat or light. Water service had been restored in the eastern and western residential districts, but the business areas were still limited to four hours of drinking water service daily.

Red Cross headquarters cared for 115,000 refugees, promised they would supply food, medical aid for flood sufferers during occupation.

City officials estimated flood damage at $25,000,000 to privately owned buildings, $39,000,000 to furnishings, $2,000,000 to utilities, and $5,000,000 to public property. Original damage estimates ran as high as $100,000,000.

DUKE'S ALLOWANCE WORRIES CABINET

LONDON, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Cabinet ministers are looking forward anxiously to strong parliamentary opposition to a state allowance for the Duke of Windsor, it was understood today.

Reports were that the cabinet discussed the problem at two meetings yesterday without reaching a decision.

The problem is whether there shall be an allowance to the duke from public funds and if so how much.

The possibility has been considered of arranging for King George VI to make an allowance from his own funds for his brother-predessor.

A sum of between $100,000 and $150,000 a year has been mentioned as suitable for the duke.

MARY PICKFORD ILL
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Mary Pickford, motion picture producer and former heroine of the silent films, was today in St. Vincent's hospital with influenza. Her condition was not serious.

Ginger's Kiss At Benefit Brings $400

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 4.—(UP)—A kiss from Ginger Rogers brought $400 on the open market here last night.

Ginger auctioned her kisses to the highest bidder and Harold Lloyd bought the privilege after out-bidding Cary Grant. It was all for the benefit of mid-western flood sufferers.

The benefit, staged by screen celebrities, netted $12,000 in all.

HOLD HUSBAND OF GIRL BRIDE

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Charges of second degree rape were filed today against Stanley S. Backus, 19-year-old husband of a 12-year-old girl, despite the protests of the bride's parents.

The father, disclosing that his daughter, Leona Elizabeth Roshia, was an expectant mother, approved the marriage and objected when authorities decreed a separation.

The mother asserted "These youngsters have a right to live together."

From a hospital cot Leona, who weighs 112 pounds and is mature for her age, railed against the separation. She was in the custody of Annie L. Kellogg, Jefferson county agent for delinquent and dependent children. She was held for examination as to her condition.

"People ought to mind their own business," she said.

Judge Harold F. Porter ordered the separation when he learned Backus and the girl had lied about their ages.

TENNESSEE ACTS TO BAN CHILD MARRIAGES

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 4.—(UP)—The senate of the Tennessee legislature today voted unanimously to outlaw future child marriages, such as the much publicized wedding at Knoxville of a 9-year-old girl and a six-foot 22-year-old mountaineer.

The bill would make it unlawful for persons under 14 to wed, regardless of parents' consent. The bill now goes to the house.

PICKETS AT STOVE PLANT STAGE RIOT

READING, Pa., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Strike riots broke out at a Reading WPA project and a Topton, Pa., stove works today. Sixteen persons were injured and three arrested.

At the Topton plant pickets attacked 200 employees attempting to enter the Caloric Stove works.

Work was halted on the Reading WPA project in Schlegel park when nine automobile loads of pickets seized tools and put out fires lit by WPA workers.

Twenty-one state police responded to the call of Topton officials. Deputy sheriffs laid the pickets three stones and bricks and jeered at the non-striking employees.

The attack on the park project was directed by "sit-down" strikers who have occupied the county WPA administration building in Reading, according to W. A. Trees, district WPA director.

Hail Orange Boy As 'New Robert Taylor'

John Trent, Nee Laverne Browne, Scores in First Film, "A Doctor's Diary"

Believing that in the young Orange actor they have a "find" of the same proportions as Robert Taylor, Paramount studio officials are giving star billing to Laverne Browne's first picture, "A Doctor's Diary."

Browne, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Browne of 232 South Olive street, has been sent east to appear in person with the film in the largest cities. Browne was born in Orange, was graduated from Orange high school several years ago.

Browne's professional name has been changed to John Trent, as such he scores a tremendous hit in "A Doctor's Diary," according to a review in the latest Time, the news-weekly. Says Time:

"His casting is as daring as its contention. Producer B. P. Schulberg has staffed it almost entirely with unknown players. John Trent, a self-assured young man of likely stardom, was until recently piloting a TWA transport. Ruth Coleman is an erstwhile commercial

SHIP UNION MEN VOTE TO END STRIKE

Majority of Workers on Pacific Coast Vote to Resume Work

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—The joint policy committee for 40,000 maritime workers, on strike since October 28, today announced the men had voted to end the Pacific coast walkout and return to work.

There was no announcement, however, that the strike was officially ended.

The committee reported that 18,406 workers voted to return to work and that 2604 voted against. This tally, the announcement said, was incomplete because it did not include the vote of the Marine Firemen, Oilers, Water-tenders and Wipers union.

The tally likewise failed to include more than 1000 Seattle longshoremen's ballots.

While the majority vote technically automatically ends the strike, the union committee has not yet formally announced the strike's end, nor so informed the shipowners.

Shipowners were expected to place calls for all available seamen and longshoremen to handle the 237 ships and 200,000 tons of cargo tied up from Puget Sound to San Diego since the strike began October 28.

The first ship was expected to sail from San Francisco by late Friday.

Complicating the revival of activity on the Pacific coast, however, were the strikes of tugboatmen, bargemen and shipyard machinists. Tugboatmen here and at San Pedro sought higher wages and shorter hours, as did the workers at the shipyards.

Machinists conferred with employers without definite progress, while no meetings with employers were held by the tugboatmen or bargemen.

DIRIGIBLE HELD ALOFT BY WIND

SUNNYVALE, Calif., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Stormy weather has kept the army dirigible TC-13 cruising in the air since yesterday afternoon, unable to moor at its base at Moffett field because of a strong south wind, Major Clarence Leber, field commandant, disclosed today.

"We feel no concern for the safety of the ship, however," Leber said, "because it has sufficient gas to stay aloft until midnight and we expect the wind to abate before then."

Major Leber said there were nine men aboard the TC-13. The craft is in command of Major Larry A. Lawson.

Upon reaching Moffett field, Major Lawson found the wind so strong he deemed it unsafe to attempt a mooring. He ordered his ship to stay aloft, cruising in wide circles over the San Francisco bay area.

ORDER AUTOPSY IN ENGINEER'S DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—(UP)—An autopsy was ordered into the sudden death of Boris Gabeliovitch, 31-year-old Soviet engineer, following a demand for official action made by N. A. Sokoloff, vice president of Antagon, business concern representing Soviet Russia in the United States.

The engineer died last night, four days after his arrival from New York.

"Unless the neighbors may be a bit bothered," Hulen said, "I plan to serenade Florence through the night. I understand that method was highly favored by some of the world's great lovers. I expect to be in excellent voice."

While Miss Hurlbut conferred with the mayor, Hulen ate a hearty breakfast—brought in by friends—and sent out a call for three bridge players. He said he was getting tired of solitude.

UNION MEMBERS READY TO RESUME WORK

With unofficial returns from headquarters of unions showing an overwhelming vote for acceptance of terms of ship owners, union members expect to resume work this week. At left is a San Francisco sailor or casting his vote and at right, longshoremen burn the flimsy shacks they had erected along the embarcadero as shelter for those picketing the steamship piers.

GASOLINE GOES UP CENT HERE

With the four major oil companies leading the way, all companies are expected to raise the price for ethyl gasoline one cent within the next 24 hours.

The increase, instituted by Standard Oil company, brings the price for ethyl gasoline up to 20.1-2 cents per gallon. The raise was ordered to restore the 3-cent differential between ethyl and first grade gasoline. The price on first grade gasoline remains at 17.1-2 cents.

Standard Oil, Shell, Union and Texaco announced the increased price in all Santa Ana stations yesterday. Officials of the General Petroleum company said today that, while they have not yet received instructions to boost the price they are expecting this order before the day is ended.

Officials of the Langley Oil company said that all independent oil companies are preparing to follow the lead of the major organizations and probably will increase the price on ethyl gasoline during the day.

Girl Seeks Removal Of Lobby Lover

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Miss Florence Hurlbut said today the gentleman suitor in her corridor was getting in her hair. She asked Mayor John F. Lodwick about the possibility of a court injunction to eject him.

Chained to Radiator

Harold Hulen, 36, is the gentleman in the corridor, and he says he will stay there—chained to a radiator—until Miss Hurlbut consents to marry him. He started the sit-down strike at Miss Hurlbut's door yesterday.

"Sure I like him. Maybe I love him," said Miss Hurlbut, "but he's not going to force me into anything with this silly business. Besides, such a way to propose. Sitting on a rubber pillow. And he hasn't shaved, either."

Important Question

Mayor Lodwick said it was a pretty important question, and with an eye on the publicity his health resort Spa is getting, explained it would take time to look up the law on injunctions.

"Well, if that General Motors man can get injunctions I guess I'm entitled to one, too," Miss Hurlbut said. "Besides, there's the economic angle in my case, too. I lost my job last week and I can't look for another one with this bothering me. I want relief."

Miss Hurlbut's neighbors also were reported desiring relief but Hulen indicated they wouldn't get it unless the court intervenes.

FLOOD RELIEF TOTAL $12,528

Heading rapidly toward the $15,000 mark, Orange county's four chapters, American Red Cross, today boasted of a total of $12,528.05 in contributions to the fund for flood relief in stricken sectors of the Ohio and Mississippi river valleys.

$2500 Over Quota

Santa Ana chapter was more than $2500 over its quota, a total of $5,327.28 having been reported today by Mrs. Laura H. Warren, executive secretary of the Orange county council.

Figures from other chapters and their respective branches, were listed as follows: Fullerton, $1,314.25; Anaheim, $1,804.38 and Orange, $1,381.54.

Special reports from the various branches included one from Buena Park, which turned in $69.29, which was credited to the Fullerton chapter. The Newport Harbor Union High school, $15 and a second remittance from the Seal Beach branch of $72.68, making a total of $240.38 for this division.

Bulletins Carry Plead

Bulletins from national headquarters today, according to Mrs. Warren, carried the plea that Red Cross staff workers urge all organizations that have not yet contributed to the fund, to do so at the earliest possible moment.

"We are also planning to contact church organizations in an effort to have a committee named to handle this branch of the collections," Mrs. Warren said. "We also are appealing to large business firms and all corporations to respond at once unless they already have done so."

BLOCK ACTION ON STRIKE RESOLUTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(UP)—The House today blocked further action on a resolution introduced by Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, R. Mich., to require the secretary of labor to furnish information regarding General Motors strikers by voting to table the proposal.

In a sharp debate before a vote was taken, Chairman William F. Connery, D. Mass., of the labor committee, declared "not one of the committee endorses sit-down strikes."

"We haven't gone into the merits of sit-down strikes but the action of the committee should not be construed as endorsing them," Connery said.

"The reason the committee reported the resolution adversely is because it would put the secretary of labor in the position of being a partisan in the present labor dispute," the chairman continued.

NEW STORM RAGES IN NORTHERN AREA

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 4.—(UP)—A new storm lashed northern California today, bringing heavy rains to lowland areas and new snowfall in the mountains.

Authorities recorded two additional deaths attributable to cold and storm conditions which have broken all records during the past few weeks.

Driven by a 55-mile gale, a new snowstorm raged in the high Sierra country while road crews bucked deepening drifts in an effort to keep the Donner pass highway open to travel.

Although renewed rainfall was expected to raise Sacramento valley streams and rivers well above normal stages, officials did not anticipate a dangerously heavy run-off.

YOUTH DENIES HE KILLED PHYSICIAN

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Safe in the Jackson county jail here from the irate Osage hills folk who threatened to lynch him for a kidnap-slaying of Dr. J. C. B. Davis, a Willow Springs, 20-year-old Robert Kenyon talked in apparent bewilderment today of the "Nighthawk" who forced him to write a ransom note.

The slight, mal-nourished youth stroked a dangling forelock of brown hair and told his amazing tale of the "Nighthawk" who forced him to write the ransom note on threat of revealing Kenyon stole an automobile two months ago.

Kenyon insisted he had never seen Dr. Davis, that it was the "Nighthawk" who fired six shots into the physician's body and left it lying under brush in a thicket 14 miles south of Willow Springs.

He was questioned here about the kidnap-murder of 16-year-old Charles Mattson in Tacoma, Wash., and asked to explain how he had put more than 9000 miles on the automobile he stole from a Rolla, Mo., agency last November 24. He apparently knew little or nothing of the Washington kidnapping.

CONFERENCE ON REMOVAL UNDER WAY

1000 Citizens Mobilized by Officials of Flint to Protect Property

DETROIT, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Negotiations between General Motors officials and union leaders entered a new and critical phase late today. Corporation spokesmen said there was no chance of any agreement today.

In Separate Groups

Representatives interrupted the face-to-face phase of their peace negotiations early this afternoon and began working in two separate groups.

Gov. Frank Murphy, special mediator for President Roosevelt, went from one group to the other. The procedure was almost exactly parallel to that of the Lansing peace conference last month which resulted in an abortive agreement.

In the General Motors group were William S. Knudsen, executive vice president; Donaldson Brown, chairman of the G. M. finance committee, and John Thomas Smith, G. M. corporation counsel.

In the union huddle were John L. Lewis, chief of the Committee for Industrial Organization; Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, and Lee Pressman, C. I. O. attorney.

REBELS LAUNCH MALAGA DRIVE

GIBRALTAR, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Spanish nationalists began a full-scale offensive on Malaga, the great loyalist port on the south coast, at dawn today after a bombardment by their fleet, according to advices received here.

At the same time, the nationalist wireless station at Seville asserted that nationalist troops, beginning their new drive for the key city, captured the village of Ojon, 28 miles southwest of Malaga and five miles from the coast.

One road runs direct along the coast from Marbella to Malaga, another runs from Marbella to Malaga in land, via Ojon. Thus nationalists were driving on both roads in addition to attacking from the sea.

It was reported that every available man of the loyalist garrison at Malaga was sent westward toward Marbella to defend the front line, which lies just to the Malaga side of the town. Throughout the night, it was said, commandeered automobiles and trucks were bearing loyalist reinforcements toward the front.

Nationalists attached great importance to the drive because capture of Malaga would give them not only a great port but an even firmer foothold on the south coast while they sought to drive loyalists out of the entire area inland.

COLLEGE NIGHT CONDUCTED AT LOCAL CHURCH

Church College Night was held at the First M. E. Church last evening with a fellowship hour followed by six class groups.

At the dinner hour C. V. Caldwell delivered his concluding address on "The Old Church in a New World." Mr. Caldwell urged that the church fulfill its mission during these times by preaching, teaching and practicing goodwill; preaching social salvation along with individual salvation; and third, that the church use its utmost influence for the preservation of peace in the world.

Mrs. Muriel White conducted a class last night, reviewing "The People, Yes" by Carl Sandburg. The dominant characteristic of this Chicago laureate is strength, that borders on brutality and yet carries a tinge of sweetness, she said.

The other five classes led by Dr. J. Hastie Odgers, Rev. George A. Warner Jr., Mrs. Jennie Tossman, Mrs. Helen McArthur and Rev. W. E. Lowe are reported as growing in attendance and enthusiasm.

Next Wednesday evening the assembly address will be delivered by J. Frank Burke from the subject, "The Significance of the Gospel."

SIX ARRAIGNED ON ALCOHOL CHARGES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—

Four men, including a board of equalization enforcement officer, and two women were arraigned today before Federal Judge Lenderback on charges of conspiring to violate the internal revenue laws by transporting, buying and receiving untaxed alcohol.

Judge Lenderback set next Saturday as date for entering of pleas and held David L. Rivera, Ralph Irwin and Alfred Hubert under $5000 bail.

William M. Stafford, San Francisco enforcement officer for the state board of equalization, already is released under $5000 bond.

Georgia County Separate State

TRENTON, Ga., Feb. 3.—(UP)—Dade county, in northwest Georgia, is not a part of the United States of America, it is contended by older citizens here.

Veterans of the Civil War say Dade county withdrew from the Union before the rest of Georgia. Dade county officials sent the federal government a proclamation, announcing the "Free and Independent State of Dade."

No written document has ever announced the county's return to the Union.

WAS DISCOURAGED WITH RESULTS OF OTHER MEDICINES

Practical Nurse Says, "Gly-Cas Greatest System Purifier of All"; Stomach and Kidneys Easily Regulated, Appetite Restored—Like New Again.

"Until I began Gly-Cas I had never taken any medicine but what disappointed me," said Mrs. Grace Reynolds, 405 West Cedar street, Eureka, Calif. "For ten years I had been in failing health, at times just dragging around, hardly able to be up. Nothing I ate would agree with me, indigestion attacks were often unbearable and for a long time I could get that I could keep on my stomach. I was badly constipated, gas formed in abundance and the poisons accumulated until my kidneys became disordered. I could not get a good night's sleep, up all hours of the night and felt miserable all of the time I was so worn-out. But as soon as I began to take Gly-Cas I began to show improvement and today I am like an entirely different person."

"I did not realize a medicine with the advanced merit of Gly-Cas had been discovered," continued Mrs. Reynolds. "My entire system has undergone a complete change. My stomach and bowels have been regulated, eat and sleep good and my kidneys are no longer bothering me. I am gaining in strength, my appetite has been restored and I cannot help but tell others of this most wonderful of all present day medicines. Gly-Cas is a medicine capable of giving results that were previously thought impossible."

Gly-Cas is sold by McCoy Drug Store, 168 West Fourth Street, this city, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

CONTEST OVER ESTATE HEARD

Hearing of a contest over the final accounting of the R. S. Kimberlin estate was continued yesterday by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel with instructions to the litigants to file a bill in equity, to give the court full jurisdiction over the matters in dispute.

Lydia Kimberlin, as guardian of Samuel B. Kimberlin, who claims an interest in the estate, which amounts to $4000 in Santa Ana property, with larger holdings in Texas, has filed an objection to the final accounting of the estate by Laura Kimberlin Looney, of Santa Ana, administratrix of the estate.

The administratrix questions the right of Samuel Kimberlin to object, on the ground that he has no interest in the estate.

The Kimberlin will left $2500 cash to the son, Sam; 160 acres, Texas to Laura K. Rooney, and the residue in four equal parts to Laura K. Rooney, Lora K. Archer, of Norwalk; D. Kimberlin Blocker, of Hondo, Texas, and the children of Etta K. Beville, these heirs being daughters and grandchildren of the deceased.

The administratrix alleges that her brother, Sam, wanted a share of the land instead of his cash legacy, so she and the other heirs agreed: she placed her 160-acre portion in the general pool of the lands, and allowed Sam to select 150 acres, in which he would hold a life tenancy, the property to go to the administratrix at his death.

Under that arrangement he selected lands worth $11,250 in lieu of his $2500 legacy, she alleges.

Court Notes

A $6000 estate was left by the late Mrs. Martha Haynes, of Santa Ana, formerly of Orange, to three daughters, Georgia Farrar, of Chicago; Marjorie Talmage, of Orange; and Dorothy Purves, of Prescott, Arizona, it was stated today in a superior court petition filed by Harry L. Haynes, seeking letters of administration.

Charging cruelty and claiming she has been subjected to physical violence, Mrs. Mahdi J. Hargrett today filed suit in superior court for a divorce, from Hubert H. Hargrett. The couple, who married in Los Angeles, August 8, 1917, have eight children.

The late Henry C. Grant left his $7500 estate to James E. Sussdorf, 22, of Seattle, Washington, it was shown today when the will was filed in superior court here by the executrix, Beatrice B. Sussdorf, mother of the heir. Grant died in Orange, January 15.

Suit to quiet title to property in Westminster was filed in superior court today by Stephen M. and Elsa M. Sweeney against Bettie Neff and others. The plaintiffs had paid off a $4000 trust deed held by the defendant, but had lost the note and therefore could not show proof of the payment, they stated, as the reason for seeking a court decree of title.

The late Caroline Hillebrand, who died last April 10, left a $5000 orange grove to her three sons and two daughters, all residing outside of Orange county, it was shown today with the filing of a petition by Clarence Hillebrand, seeking letters of administration.

Police News

A lanky prowler who may have intended to commit burglary was reported to city police by members of the Patterson household, 421 West Santa Clara avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Patterson said the man, about six feet two inches tall, wearing dark, shabby clothing and a cap, and who was bow-legged, stopped at her home while she was in the back yard, and questioned her small son who answered his knock. When the boy informed the man his mother was home, the man turned and hurried away, officers were told. Officer W. B. Moreland investigated.

Employees of the Hales Feed store, West Fifth street, informed police yesterday that someone driving an automobile had "jumped" the curb in front of the store, demolishing a bench and scraping paint from the store walls. Identity of the motorist was undetermined.

Found wandering about the streets about 1:50 a. m. today, Robert Henchey, 52, of the Palace hotel, was jailed on a vagrancy charge, by city police. Henchey gave no reason for his late-hour stroll.

Maud Colleen Clark, 1416 North Main, was fined $5 for speeding, yesterday in city court and an Anaheim boy was certified to juvenile court, on the same charge.

Henry Anderson, 21, Indian from Oregon, was arrested and jailed last night by Orange police on a vagrancy charge.

Manager Hare of Hare's garage in Westminster last evening asked sheriff's officers and Poundmaster H. D. Pickering to examine a dog which his neighbor had killed and which he believed might have had rabies virus. The poundmaster and county health officers are making a checkup.

Mrs. W. F. Bonkosky of 600 West Center street, Anaheim, reported to sheriff's officers yesterday that thieves stole two fumigating tents from the corner of Grand and Lincoln avenues, where they had been placed to dry.

Homer Hammond, service station operator at Sycamore camp, in Santa Ana canyon, reported to sheriff's officers today that a man about 20 years old, had stopped at his station, ordered five gallons of gasoline, and after obtaining it, had driven away hurriedly without paying. He said the license number of the car was 7-Y-8346, 1936, and asked officers to assist him in finding the youth.

David Behr of White and Behr Oil company, Huntington Beach, yesterday reported to sheriff's officers, the loss of a fly wheel and gas engine base from a location near the Jackie Coogan No. 2 well. He said men came and took the equipment away in broad daylight, without anyone suspecting they were possibly stealing it.

PIANO PLAYING TOURNEY WILL BE HELD HERE

Plans for a piano playing tournament to be started here Saturday, were announced today by Mrs. Grace Hamill, publicity chairman for the Orange County unit of the National Piano Playing Guild, sponsors of the event.

The competition will continue through February to June and is one of 50 tournaments being held in the United States. The local tournament will be held in Bungalow A of the Board of Education building on North Main street.

The competition is open to both children and adults and is being held for the three-fold purpose of developing greater public interest in the piano; give the students rating as to their own ability in comparison with other students and to provide the teachers with a yardstick for measuring their success with pupils.

Each entry in the contest will receive a private audition supervised by Adelaide Trowbridge Perry of the University of Southern California, who will serve as the judge. Each player will receive a certificate of rating based upon the player's age and the length of time he or she has been studying music.

Candidates for certificates must register for the tournament through their teacher and be able to play at least four selections from memory.

Clarence Gustlin, Santa Ana, is president of the Orange county unit and is being assisted by Louis Danz and Margaret Ruttee, both of his mother-in-law passed away. ange; Helen McNew, Balboa; Ramona Mulligan Holm, Fullerton; Miss Helen Johnson and Mrs. Hamill.

CLAIM SUSPECT IN HOLDUP IDENTIFIED

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (UP)—District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan said today that John Oley, one of three men arrested as suspects in the kidnaping of Lieut. John J. O'Connell Jr., of Albany, N. Y., had been identified as the pilot of speed boat in which bandits escaped after a $427,000 armored car holdup in August, 1934.

Geoghan said the identification was made by Thomas Quinn, part owner of the boat, who had been held as a material witness, after much hickering between federal G-men and local authorities over the latter's right to examine the prisoner.

He said he had been forced to communicate with Washington authorities by telephone before G-men here would turn Oley over to police for questioning.

CHILDREN TIED TO TREE

The snug warmth of an Indianapolis hospital bed, and toys, are helping these wan-faced little girls forget a terrible flood experience. Apparently left behind in the hope they'd be rescued, the children were found near Clarksville, Ind., tied to a tree, with flood waters nearing them. A note pinned to the dress of the older girl said, "Please take care of us. I can't any longer. Our name is Sullivan." With this as their only clue, police are seeking the parents of "Margaret," 4, left, and "Dorothy," 5.

Hopes License Plate Will Change Luck

Vibrations in the ozone which caused hard luck and bad business, according to a Santa Ana woman, put a new wrinkle into the California highway patrol license division puzzle today.

A woman reported at the courthouse, asking for a license number "which just must add up to seven." "I must break my streak of hard luck which is the result of these vibrations," she told Officer Ernest Sawyer. Sawyer wanted to help her but couldn't do so because a certain license number already had been designated for her. She informed the officers that she had read in the paper that license plates of the proper number might be available, but Sawyer explained that no orders had been sent through from Sacramento, to make the plates available to those who wished to break streaks of hard luck.

Other demands, made here, with more or less success, as chance would have it, from automobile license plates seekers, called for license plates which were exactly the same as home address numbers and telephone numbers. Capt. H. C. Meehan of the Orange county patrol, was informed recently that an eastern man asked for plates which were the same as the year his mother-in-law passed away.

Film Actor To Aid Grandfather

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Robert Taylor's grandfather won't have to smoke tobacco from the relief commissary any more, Hollywood's newest film idol promised today.

Taylor, who was Arlington Brush before he attained film-fame, said he couldn't understand why grandfather Jacob A. Brush had to seek a $16-a-week relief job at Holmesville, Neb. The actor issued a joint state-

PHOTOGRAPHY EXHIBITION IS HELD AT BEACH

Ted Cook, columnist, of Laguna Beach, and two other Orange county residents, were happy today as the amateur photography display of the first annual Far Western Inter-Club Salon of Photography was prepared for visitors, at the Laguna Beach Art Gallery.

Other winners in the competition which found 1183 pictures entered, include G. H. Ethington, Huntington Beach, with his picture "Waves," a photograph taken near his home, and Walter Lehnhardt, physical education and manual training teacher at Washington Grammar school, Garden Grove, with his photograph, "Mary Lou." The three men are members of the Orange County Camera club.

The picture entry winners of Cook were those of his daughter, Johanna, 12, and "Sister Act," a beautiful photograph of two mares, almost identical in size, color and markings. Cook, who won first place in the portrait division of the inter-club competition, captured the picture after several days of "leaning on the fence and getting friendly with the animals." The animals, standing side by side, gave him a perfect head posture pose. The animals were pastured along Newport road, near Costa Mesa, Cook said.

The photographic exhibition will be located at the Laguna Beach gallery for the next three weeks.

ARMY PLANES OFF FRIDAY FOR PANAMA

LANGLEY FIELD, Va., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Nine army airplanes of the 96th bombardment squadron, accompanied by a Douglas observation amphibian, will take off tomorrow on the first leg of an air navigation mission to France field, Panama canal zone, it was announced here today.

The planes will break the 1950 mile flight with an over-night stop at Miami, Fla., and then will fly the remaining 1,140 miles non-stop. The Douglas observation amphibian, manned by a crew of six, will accompany the flight as a precaution in case of a forced landing at sea during the overwater jump.

STRIKES ARE DISCUSSED AT LIONS LUNCH

In an attack on strikes in general and the sit down strikes in particular, Richard Close, official of the Santa Ana Lions club, today told members of the Santa Ana Lions club that some type of organization must be perfected in order to combat the unions in their strike activities.

"The sit-down strike is new to America, having found its origin in Europe," Close said. "Such things spread, and in all probability this county will some day experience such a strike. This country is founded on the rights of men to own and control property, and when that right is denied them, there is no right at all. Manufacturers, shippers, and all types of industrial leaders, through the strikes in their various forms, are being robbed of their rights."

In his address, the speaker traced the development of cooperative purchasing and other types of cooperatives in business. He expressed the opinion that the best type of cooperative is that universally accepted in the United States, where each man is allowed to do what he is best fit to do. Ben Manker presided as program chairman of the day.

Three new members inducted into the club today were Jack Snow, Richard Ewert, and Nolan Doss. Ray Adkinson officiated at the ceremonies.

Visitors at today's meeting included State Controller Harry Riley; Assemblyman Thomas Kuchel of Anaheim, and former speaker of the house, Ted Craig.

TAX PER ROOM IN HOME IS $29

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—A few things you probably never knew about taxes:

Taxes cost $18 a room on a cozy flat for the average apartment dweller, and $29 a room for the average city house.

The cost is 13 cents in annual taxes for every square foot of floor space in an apartment, but in a house the average is 22 cents.

A study of tax and rental relationships for 354 apartment buildings, and 1165 one- and two-family houses in 48 cities has been completed by the Northwestern Life Insurance Company. The survey demonstrates that taxes amount to 13.6 per cent of the rental rates on apartment houses, 19.2 per cent in the case of duplexes and double houses, and 28 per cent on single-family houses.

Realtors in the 48 widely separated municipalities co-operated with the company in the study by furnishing rental and tax records on representative groups of rental properties, the record cards being taken at random from their files. Tenement districts and exclusive residential sections as well as middle class neighborhoods were "sampled" in the survey.

Apartment buildings in the study pay an average tax of $144 each a year, and contain a total of 6488 apartments, or slightly more than 18 flats per building. The average rental rate is $44.96 per apartment; the average tax load borne by each apartment in 1936 was $73.22.

Rental rates on the houses averaged $52.84 a month and each house had an average annual tax of $117.39. The duplexes and double houses average $49.12 monthly rental for each family unit, or $98.24 total monthly rental and $226.45 total taxes per building.

Young Princess Visits Palace

THE youngest child of England's royal line is pretty bored with this business of having her picture taken, even though it was her first. She reclines with her eyes closed, in the arms of her nurse at Buckingham where she was taken for a visit to the queen. The baby, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Kent, was born on Christmas Day, 1936.

HORSE, 38, NEAR RECORD IN AGE

BURNS, Colo. — (UP)—Black Kid, 38-year-old survivor of the days when an automobile was a rare thing in Colorado, holds the distinction of being the oldest horse in the state and possibly in the country.

Tradition says that a horse formerly ridden by General Custer lived to the age of 45. A Colorado horse known as Superior died after reaching 32.

Age has left its stamp on Black Kid. The animal's hair has long since fallen out and blown to the winds with a sort of fur effect, which nature seems to provide for a covering, taking its place. Black Kid loafs peacefully about the corral in the winter time at the Benton Land & Livestock company's ranch near here and sallies slowly forth in summer to gather whatever sustenance and upkeep he desires on the pastures of the Burns Hole territory. Aged and decrepit, the horse waits around the corner with an expectant air and even attempts at times to perform an old trick of shaking hands.

Black Kid gained fame as a tall, jet-black animal weighing 1250 pounds three decades ago when he was the mount of Frank Benton, then one of the most widely known stockmen in the West. Black Kid and Benton in an expensive, white Stetson sombrero made a striking partnership which never failed to attract attention. The partnership ended in 1921 with the death of Benton.

Benton purchased Black Kid in Denver in 1900 after being attracted by the animal's gait as he trotted into the city behind a buggy.

MOVE TO REDUCE PLANE ACCIDENTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(UP)—The bureau of air commerce is prepared to require commercial airlines to install two new navigational aids on all ships in an effort to "reduce air accidents," Eugene Vidal, director of the bureau, told an air safety conference today.

Vidal said the department is "on the verge" of requiring all commercial airlines to install a directional homing device and shielded loop antenna. The regulations may be placed in effect within a few months, he said.

Speaking before 200 representatives of airline companies and experts from the bureau of air commerce, Vidal asserted "we all know that faults in existing radio equipment have contributed to several airline accidents."

LINDBERGH PAYS VISIT TO BALBOA

ROME, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh observed his 35th birthday today with a visit to Air Marshal Italo Balbo, another famous transatlantic flier. A projected visit with Premier Benito Mussolini was cancelled. "I do not know why it was cancelled," said Chester Aldrich, director of the American Academy of Rome, who is Lindbergh's host. "The Colonel makes his own plans. It was understood this morning that he was scheduled to see Il Duce but this afternoon he visited Marshal Balbo instead."

Lindbergh intends to leave Rome tomorrow, taking an undisclosed route to Egypt.

SHIP SAILS WITH LOYALIST SUPPLIES

PARIS, Feb. 4.—(UP)—The Greek freighter Kataristola left Le Havre secretly today for the Mediterranean, after taking aboard a cargo of American airplanes recently brought from the United States.

The French government agreed to grant trans-shipment permits only when the shippers announced the planes were destined for Bulgaria, but it was generally believed they were bound for the Spanish loyalists.

Dispatches reaching Paris via Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish frontier, reported the rebel leader, Francisco Franco, had assigned his newest cruiser, the Balaesara, to intercept the Kataristola.

BUST THAT COLD WIDE OPEN

Don't Merely Check It With Half-Way Measures!

Deal with a cold in earnest. Deal with it in seriousness.

A cold is too fraught with danger to be taken lightly. Many a case of flu and pneumonia has started with nothing more than a "common cold".

Treat a cold for what it is—an internal infection. Therefore, internal treatment.

Treat a cold with a preparation made for colds and not a "cure-all".

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is your answer to a cold.

It is a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds and not for all kinds of ailments.

It is internal in effect and it does four important things.

First, it opens the bowels, an important step in overcoming a cold.

Second, it checks the infection in the system, a vital step.

Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack.

These are the four effects a cold calls for and in Bromo Quinine you get them all in the form of a single tablet.

Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain. The sugar-coated are exactly the same as the regular, except that the tablets are coated with sugar for palatability.

Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is safe to take. It has been proven by more than 40 years of use.

When you feel a cold coming on—don't wait—don't procrastinate—but go right to your druggist and get a package of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

Say "No" to substitutes!

REGISTER NEWS ROOM PICTURE DRAWS CROWD

It is a candid camera picture of The Register newsroom that is attracting attention in the window of the Eastman Kodak store on South Hill street in Los Angeles.

The photograph apparently was taken when the Register staff was nearing its deadline as everyone in the picture is shown working full blast.

Paul Vissman, reporter, is shown in profile as he is hammering out a story, while both Mason Youd, editor, and Neil Stanley, have their backs turned to the camera.

Youd and Stanley are shown attacking their typewriters viciously as they grind out heads for the first edition.

In the background Ted Stephenson, county editor, is looking over some copy from one of his correspondents. He does not look too happy in the picture, however. Eddie West's corner is plainly pictured with its various sport stars pasted on the wall.

The view of the busy editorial office, together with candid camera scenes of Santa Anita, is attracting crowds.

SAN DIEGO WOMAN PLANS STORE HERE

Plans for the retirement of William Cochems, pioneer Santa Ana bakery operator, were revealed today when it was announced that the store room he has occupied for the past 30 years has been leased to Mrs. H. A. Hebard, of San Diego.

Mrs. Hebard, who signed a five-year lease for the property plans to operate a health food store, bakery and cafe, according to J. S. Goodner, real estate man who negotiated the lease.

Under terms of the lease the S. H. Finley company, owners of the building, will completely remodel the property and Mrs. Hebard is planning to install all new equipment.

Leasing the property Mrs. Hebard, who has conducted a similar business in San Diego for the past 12 years, said that her cafe will not be in direct competition with other eating places in the city as she will cater to diners who require specially prepared meals or diets.

BREAKFASTEERS WILL JOIN IN CIVIC AFFAIRS

Action on important business matters before the organization vied with unusual entertainment for headlines on the general program of the Santa Ana Breakfast Club in regular session this morning at the Main Cafeteria.

The club voted unanimously to support efforts of other organizations in the city who are sponsoring the erection of an arch sign at one of the entrances to the city, one that will include placards of all similar clubs. It also voted to send a representative to a joint meeting of clubs at Daniger's tomorrow noon.

Martin Presides

Edward W. Cochems, president, called the meeting to order, and later turned the gavel over to M. U. Martin, of 315 North Main street, who was chairman of the entertainment committee.

Tap dancing by Earle (Duke) Clarke, of 1216 West Second street, was the main feature of the program. Ray Ramon, club pianist, was accompanist.

William C. Jerome, former supervisor and well-known member of the club, was named by Cochems and the club to represent the organization tomorrow noon when groups of the city will hear details of the proposal for the construction of a new Junior College Plant in Santa Ana.

Eliminate Signs

Rodney Bacon another leader of the club, explained the efforts of various other organizations to eliminate small signs on the highways leading into the city, and to pay for the construction of a large sign that will hang over the highway and advertise each of the clubs with panels bearing their names.

With the acceptance of the application for membership of Les Phillips, of the Blue Note Music Co., Harold Mathews, of the membership committee, and Cochems announced that a grand prize would be offered to the member who obtains the most membership applications during the next month. The prize will be one dozen portrait pictures.

Northwestern Life Insurance Shows Business Increase

Encouraging increases in new business, total insurance in force, surplus and assets were reported to District Agent Paul W. Neff today in a special communication from M. J. Cleary, of Milwaukee, president of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Assets of the company, one of the leaders in the nation, have reached a new high, it was shown in the 79th annual report of the company, made by President Cleary to the board of trustees at its quarterly meeting yesterday. The figure stands at $1,129,853,696, an increase of $57,861,740 over the previous year.

Investments and all other assets of the company are sufficient to provide for its liabilities, provide dividends of $30,600,000 payable in 1937, and leave a surplus of $54,458,802. The increase in surplus amounted to $5,961,259.

New paid-for business for 1936 was $206,722,875, an increase of $11,270,454 or 4.4 percent over the 1935 total. The new business of life insurance companies generally was approximately four percent below that of 1935, showing Northwestern in a very favorable comparative position. Total insurance now in force in the Northwestern Mutual is $3,738,148,582, held by 1,097,857 policyholders.

President Cleary also reported a very satisfactory increase in savings resulting from a decrease in the percentage of actual to expected mortality, which dropped from 59.46 in 1935 to 56.78 in 1936.

Her Laughs Relieved Refugees

A ray of sunshine in a dreary setting was 5-months-old Frances Marie Bradford, laughing delightedly in a Memphis refugee camp. With sickness and terror all about her, she declined to be depressed. Frances Marie fled, with a little assistance from her parents, from Osceola, in the state of Arkansas, where 30 were dead, 70,000 homeless.

Picnics and Reunions

The annual winter picnic reunion of Missourians, resident here or visiting, will be held all day, Friday, February 12, (Lincoln's birthday) in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles. Sam A. Seelman, president of the Missouri State Society of Southern California will be in charge.

Judge Frank P. Allen, president of the North Dakotans announces the date of the annual winter picnic for Saturday, February 6, in Sycamore Grove Park. Secretary B. H. Harrold will open county registers and headquarters for enrollment and will supply coffee and bages.

After being out 40 years a book has been returned to the Syracuse, N. Y., library, the borrower probably having discovered it wasn't a friend's.

L. A. OFFICERS ASK RETURN OF NEGROES

Word from Police Chief James E. Davis, of Los Angeles, to Police Chief Floyd Howard, of Santa Ana, today revealed that if Santa Ana officers are unable to obtain enough evidence to convict Chester Hauze, 29; George Gilmore, 36; and Walter Jones, 26, Los Angeles Negroes accused of two ice station burglaries here, Los Angeles officers can find enough, probably, in Los Angeles county, to bring convictions.

Chief Davis reported his men have evidence to place four counts of burglary against both Gilmore and Jones and expect to have sufficient evidence to hold Hauze, too.

COUNTY PEACE OFFICERS NAME NEW PRESIDENT

David R. McMillan, assistant probation officer, last night at Leon's cafe on 101 highway, was elected president for 1937 of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, taking the place of George Franzen, Orange police chief.

Hunter Leach, detective sergeant on the Santa Ana police force, was elected vice president; Jesse Elliott, secretary-treasurer (and editor of the monthly police bulletin for the association), and Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel, sergeant-at-arms.

Assemblyman Clyde Watson of Orange presented an enlightening talk to the officers on the subject of pending bills in the legislature, emphasizing those bills which relate to police work such as speeding, illegal parking and liquor control.

Youthful George H. Honore furnished a delightful interlude of piano-accompanied music for the officers. Plans were outlined for the association's annual dance, to be held March 13 at Valencia ballroom.

SWITCH TO ELECTRIC COOKERY!

to Increase LEISURE HOURS

* Perhaps the most significant advantage of electric cookery is the time it saves in food preparation and service. No longer does the home-maker look forward to hours of drudgery each day. Her meals are prepared in a jiffy and the controls are set. Then she is off for the afternoon, knowing her dinner will be perfectly cooked and ready to serve on her return.

* Each week hundreds of women right here in Southern California are switching to time-saving, money-saving electric cookery. Why not take this most important step toward your

SPORTS-MAN-ABOUT-TOWN

October 22, the "bye" date on Santa Ana Jaycee's football schedule next fall, is giving Don powers that be something to think about through the off-season.

The U. C. L. A. freshmen, who had first choice, were scratched as possible opponents yesterday. Westwood officials said the date couldn't change.

I think it's safe to say that Santa Ana now will endeavor to schedule the University of Southern California. Coach Bill Cook feels the Dons need a powerful home attraction to make up for the state receipts that will be lost when his squad goes to Palo Alto to play Stanford's frosh. Failing to book the Trojans, the Dons will offer the open date to Pomona's varsity. The Claremont college has many an alumnus in Orange county.

Out of the mailbag: Of all the "chicken" ideas the crowning masterpiece is Santa Ana's trying to get in the Orange league. After crying around because she was yellow and afraid of the Coast league why should she be in the Orange league? Is she afraid of competition? Be your age, and put Santa Ana where she belongs — in the Junior High league. Your fair play, Talbert and Basse, Anaheim RF3.

Watch your blood pressure, boys! For your information, the movement to return Santa Ana (and Fullerton) to the Orange league originated in the Orange league, long in need of the Santa's drawing power, and found small enthusiasm at Santa Ana high school. Santa Belt, not the Orange league.

The racing secretary of Santa Anita must be hard pressed at times to conjure up names for the "handicaps" that are run at the miracle strip. Yesterday he had to dip into the bag, came up with one called the Santa Benicia. T was the Corte Calle Purse. Saturday it will be the San Carlos.

Vernon Koepsel, blond sprint star of Santa Ana Jaycee's last two seasons, probably will complete a third year of collegiate eligibility at San Diego State.

Hottest thing in town yesterday belonged to J. K. Evans, the ad man. He heard Keene Jack was a good thing in the third at Santa Anita, told everyone who would listen. Keene Jack romped home, paid off in box-car figures — $67.40, $30.80, $10.60 — but poor J. K. neglected to risk even a bob on Keene Jack.

The bowling boys have the guffaw on Bill Karam, the indomitable little fan who still follows the sport avidly though the loss of a leg put him out of competition several seasons ago. Karam, who'll bet you on anything, risked $30 against $10 that Al Shultz would roll a 600 series the other night. So Shultz piled up 730, largest ever recorded by a Santa Ana trundler in match play.

Pasadena Junior college, only football team to humble Santa Ana's Dons last year, has compiled a 10-game schedule for 1937 that is nearly as formidable as the one cooked up by Coach Bill Cook here. Pasadena opens against Santa Ana Sept. 17 at the Bowl, then takes on San Bernardino, Taft, San Francisco, Phoenix, Compton, Chaffey, San Mateo and the Caltech varsity. If the San Mateo tussle fails to materialize, Pasadena is prepared to substitute Sacramento.

The New York Yanké are through with Willard Hershberger. After handing Hershey around from one farm club to another they've given the smiling Fullerton catcher his "outright release" to Newark, which, as you know, happens to be another Yankee farm. So now if Hershey has a good year with Newark, the Yanks will have to "buy" instead of recall him. Which is all the same as taking change out of one pocket and depositing it in another. Only catch is that Hershberger, having been sent out the maximum number of three times, is now eligible for the draft.

They killed 64 deer in Orange county last season, according to official state records, which is 14 more than the bag of 1935, but still far under the total of 114 brought down in 1931. Throughout the whole state, the kill was 25,292 against 21,955 in '35. Biggest slaughter of California bucks occurred in '31. The total was 25,895.

FIRST JAYSEE TRACK TURNOUT DISAPPOINTING

Only 20 men answered the first call of Coach Bill Cook for Santa Ana Jaycee track and field candidates at Poly field yesterday. Tuesday Coach Cook said the regular daily workouts would begin next Monday and that the annual interschool meet will be held Jan. 15, two weeks from tomorrow.

While the turnout was not altogether pleasing, Coach Cook says he expects more athletes next week.

Two lettermen reported for the first time, George Griffith and Willard Lutton. Griffith was a fair high-jumper last season and Lutton consistently hit the 21-foot mark in the long pit event. Capt. Bill Greshner, Bob Clark, Dave Clark, Ray Cokerley—all lettermen—have been working out, off and on for a month. Ines Grandos, two-miler, Bob Reif, long hurdler, and Cameron Gillis, broad jumper, round out the nine returning lettermen. They are expected in suit Monday.

Blas Mercurio, Walt Opp, Tommy Sullivan, Dick Tauber, Clinton Roberts and Cyril Nichols, outstanding newcomers, have all been out for the past two weeks.

"Rusty" Roquet, big Anaheim football star, took his first try with the discus yesterday and reached the 100-foot mark with little effort. Ray Cokerley and Bob Clark, lettermen weightmen, got off several 115-foot throws.

The track roster: Bob Clark, Dave Clark, Ray Cokerley, Bob Fowler, Captain Bill Greshner, George Griffith, Willard Lutton, Walt Opp, Fred Pimental, Clinton Roberts, Tommy Sullivan, Dick Tauber, Harry Miles, Blas Mercurio, Cyril Nichols, Bob Warren, Bill White, Russell Roquet and Joe Kobajashi.

LONDON STILL BIDS FOR MAX BAER BOUT

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, probably will return to the fight game with a bout either in New York or London, it was announced today by his manager, Anell Hoffman.

Hoffman said that London promoters had offered to deposit $10,000 to obtain Baer for a bout between Baer and either Jack Peterson or Benny Ford in London.

Madison Square Garden officials are attempting to arrange a match between Baer and Bob Pastor in New York in March.

'NEXT-YEAR' SAINT CAGERS WIN TWICE

Hoping to duplicate yesterday's double-barreled victory over Laguna Beach, Santa Ana hi's "next-year" basketball team goes on to Excelsior tomorrow and will wind up its season at Orange next Tuesday.

At Laguna Beach, the Saint Cagers defeated two Arista quintets, 23-15 and 37-16. O'Campo, Partida, M. Smith, Muck and Webb composed one Saint team; Tway, Johnson, Barron, O'Connell and Young the other. Center Barron rolled up 18 points in the 37-16 win.

NAZARENE QUINTETS IN CIVIL WAR TILT

With all the teams in the Santa Ana Church league drawing a bye tonight, the Santa Ana Nazarene will tangle with the Midway City Nazarenes in a practice game at 6:30 p.

In a secondary feature at the Y. M. C. A. the Southern Counties Gas company quintet plays the First Baptist church. This game will begin at 7:30.

The regular Church league schedule will be resumed Monday with the Methodists tugging with the Nazarenes and the Midway Nazarenes opposing the Baptists.

Racing Chairman Sells His Stable
SANTA ANITA, Feb. 4.—Carleton Burke, chairman of the California horse racing commission, gave up active racing today with the sale of most of his stable to Ed Janss and W. Janss of Westwood. Burke sold Campillo, Lysander, Cannibal and a pair of two-year-olds.

Decade Takes Toll

Gertrude Ederle, Channel Swimmer, Limps to Court

In the decade the husky, happy girl above has been transformed into the weary, woe-begone cane-carrier. The two pictures show Gertrude Ederle, the first woman to swim the English channel. She hobbled into court at Mineola, N. Y., on a cane to press a suit for $50,000 damages. She charges that a loose tile caused her to slip down 15 steps, sustaining injuries that make it impossible for her to work as swimming counselor.

Gehrig's Ambition: To Play In 2500 Consecutive Games

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Lou Gehrig, durable first baseman of the New York Yankees, put on a cocktail party for the baseball writing boys today.

Ambition No. 1 is to extend his present all-time consecutive game record from 1808 to 2500. He figured that this would require about 4 1/2 more seasons of play.

Ambition No. 2 is to take possession of a book of career records, supplanting, possibly, such heroes as Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Hans Wagner.

"Four-and-a-half more seasons will bring us up to 1941," Gehrig said. "If I stay on that long, and I can't see now why I won't, I will have had something like 15 years of the big time. In that stretch, if my present form holds, I should come into a swell set of records such as the lifetime base hit records, the runs-batted-in record and the total bases record. Also I should get into the select circle of those players who have made 200 hits per season for nine consecutive seasons. Then I'd like to put my name among the fewer number of players who have played 3000 games in their baseball lifetimes."

Gehrig was asked to name his all-time greatest player. "Greatest I ever saw was Wagner," he said. "I saw him near the end of his career but he still had the style which made him, in my opinion, the most valuable player a club ever had—more valuable even than Ruth or Cobb, which is saying something."

HERE AND THERE: Jockey Allen Gray was suspended five days, the stewards announced yesterday, for his ride Tuesday on San Judas. He came over on Grace Carome through the stretch and interfered with her repeatedly. Judge Edmund Soule, one of Santa Anita's stewards, is on the sick list with the flu and will be out of the stand for several days.

Mervyn Le Roy, ace Hollywood director, is the latest member of the cinema colony to take up the horse business. He has appointed Eddie Level as the trainer of his new horses. "All he lacks now is the horses," Le Roy buy or claim a few soon.

San Jacinto turned in the most impressive trial of the morning yesterday when he stepped seven-eighths in 1:26 and will be a sure starter next week if he doesn't again spoil his long awaited debut.

Conditions will be announced today for Monday's special charity day racing for the aid of flood sufferers. The track is donating its net receipts from all sources of revenue and every effort will be made to make the charity day one of the outstanding occasions of the season.

Jockey George Woolf, one of the track's ranking reinmen, is ill with pleurisy.

MONTEBELLO BUMPS PANTHER TRACKMEN
Riddled by the flu, Orange high school's track and field forces took a 68 to 27 lacing from Montebello yesterday at Montebello.

Grover Miller was the only Orange winner, taking the shot with a toss of 41 feet, 2 inches. Hooper, Montebello sprinter, was clocked in 10.1 for the 100 yard dash, and Bill Bugbee, ace broad-jumper, went 21.7.

FIVE SCHOOLS READY TO JOIN COMPETITION

By DUNCAN CLARK
Official confirmation was all that Santa Ana Junior college rugby enthusiasts needed today to mold together a five-team Eastern conference rugby schedule.

San Bernardino, Fullerton, Riverside and Chaffey have all signified their intentions of organizing teams this spring.

Coaches Ernest Butterworth and Bill Cook will make an official survey of Eastern conference colleges Saturday and if everything works out as they expect Santa Ana will meet all these schools in regular competition.

According to the popular plan, regular competition will be held on scheduling any other games until he's sure about the set-up.

The Don ruggers started official practice yesterday under their new coach from Victoria, B. C. Some 15 candidates reported. Coach Butterworth has 30 signed up for the sport and they are all expected to report regularly next week.

Louis Handlers Threaten Split With Promoter

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—The row over the proposed Chicago bout between Champion Jim Braddock and Joe Louis today brought an open rift between Louis' handlers and Mike Jacobs of New York's 20th Century club.

Julian Black, co-manager of the Brown Bomber, said he and John Roxborough "are plenty burned up at Mike" and threatened to "sign independently or at least break with Mike and listen to offers."

Jacobs has exhibited no interest in the proposed Chicago bout since Sheldon Clark, president of the Sporting Club of Illinois, announced Braddock has accepted terms of $500,000 or half the net receipts to fight the Bomber here next June.

Gehrig was asked to name his all-time greatest player. "Greatest I ever saw was Wagner," he said. "I saw him near the end of his career but he still had the style which made him, in my opinion, the most valuable player a club ever had—more valuable even than Ruth or Cobb, which is saying something."

HERE AND THERE: Jockey Allen Gray was suspended five days, the stewards announced yesterday, for his ride Tuesday on San Judas. He came over on Grace Carome through the stretch and interfered with her repeatedly.

SIGN FOUR TO FACE GIANT BEN MORGAN
Four of the toughest heavyweights in this sector—"Tiny" Roebuck, Jack McArthur, Casey Berger and "Brother" Jonathan today were signed to wrestle "Big Ben" Morgan in the proposed "four-in-one" mat feature billed for Monday night at the Orange County Athletic club.

According to terms, Morgan is to meet and defeat each of his four opponents in the time limit of 1 1/2 hours or lose the match. If he loses, the Ozark hillbilly with the black beard has agreed to have his whiskers shaved off in the ring immediately following the match. It will take more than a razor to part Morgan from his foliage. Experts in judging chin-flickers assert it will call for a lawn mower.

"Man Mountain" Dean and "Brother" Jonathan started this fad in Oakland. In other matches, Dr. Ten Hall, one of the best liked of the newer crop to hit this section, will tackle Jules Strongbow. Sheik Al Rosen opposes popular Bobby Coleman.

TWINS PROVIDE WRESTLING'S LATEST, DAFFIEST GAG

More and more absurdly fantastic become the antics of wrestling's mountebanks in their quest for new turns and gags with which to entertain the maddened.

The latest and daffiest is the ringing in of twins, almost identical in appearance and performance who double up on opponents in matches calling for two or three falls.

Abe Rothberg was a victim of the Olsen duplicates in an Ohio town in a joust that ended in a riotous squabble when the perpetrators of the dastardly and fraudulent plot were uncovered, much to the delight of the paying guests. That's one of the few beauties of grappling. The customers always are sent away with a laugh.

Hermie Olsen planned Rothberg with a series of kangaroo kicks and a scissors hold. Rothberg, according to the popular plan, wiped the canvas with Hermie in taking the second fall. A pair of dying gladiators wended their weary way to the dressing rooms.

Then the dirty work. The story is that, during the rest period, Hermie Olsen insists that "they can't do that to us." Anyway, he dons Hermie's sweat-absorbed toga, and apparently no one is the wiser as he clambers through the hemp to pick up where the other member of the family left off.

Second Edition Altogether Too Strong For One Man
Needless to say, Hermie, fresh as a daisy on a dew-kist morn, loses little time in nailing the hapless Rothberg's shoulder to the deck for the deciding fall.

By this time there is every reason for even a wrestler to 'suspect that there was 'something screwy.

Rothberg stirs up a tremendous fuss. Acting the part of a mystified and bewildered victim, he protests that no human could recuperate that quickly after two gruelling sessions of limb twisting. He pleads with a perplexed referee to do something about it right now. The third man, likewise flabbergasted, orders a thorough investigation.

State or city athletic commissioners are called in when they are handy. State athletic commissioners adore being called in on anything, and at once become busier than the New York Americans' goalie.

Finally, the other half of the Olsen twins is ferreted from his hiding place and produced in the ring. There is no alternative but to disqualify the entire Olsen tribe and declare Rothberg the winner. The customers stare in amazement. Grappling addicts always stare in amazement. They are amazing people.

The Olsens have yet to be tried out in the larger centers, but they're proving a riot the first time around the circuit.

Being Wrestlers, Olsens Have Patent on Twin Idea
Bone-benders have put on every possible kind of an ending but the Olsen number perhaps is the most satisfactory along that line since Jack Dempsey flattened the villains.

Before Dempsey joined the pullers and tuggers, the accepted formula was for the hero to be bounced around good and plenty before he somehow managed to summon sufficient strength to smother the rascal just before the curfew.

After Dempsey's arrival, the scoundrel went right through and threw the favorite after picking on the referee all the way along the route.

The big moment came when Dempsey patted the vile wretch on the back in token of a begrudged victory. That was the cue for the knave to take a full roundhouse swing at the referee, which is when the Old Manassa Man unfurled Iron Mike and sent everybody out into the night rejoicing.

Dempsey can go back in the wrestling league any time he cares to. His was grand and uproarious entertainment.

And the Olsens not only have something brand new, but theirs will remain a novel attraction if for no other reason than that they are the only two ear massagers who look alike.

Imagine Max Mountain Dean or Ali Baba coming up with a twin!

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Sueo Oye, star Japanese pole vaulter, arrived in New York today, bearing five poles which he guarded as he would the family jewels.

He was more concerned over his bamboo shafts than he was over the fact that he hasn't been able to practice in weeks, although he competes in the Millrose games here Saturday.

His English consists of two words, one of which is "yes," but through an interpreter he said he would jump Saturday if he can practice beforehand. Oye said he has never vaulted indoors, but that he is willing to try almost anything once.

CLEVELAND SLATED FOR PRO FRANCHISE.
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 4.—(UP)—The annual meeting of the National Professional Football league will be held in Chicago, Feb. 12-13. It was announced here today by President Joseph Carr.

Expansion of the league to 10 teams and the drafting of the 1937 schedule will be the principal matters taken up.

The league now has 9 members, with 5 in the Eastern division and 4 in the Western. The new team will be added to the latter group. It was considered highly probable that Cleveland, represented in the American I gue last fall, would receive the open franchise.

HOLD DERBY MAY 8 DESPITE BIG FLOOD.
CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Col. Matt Winn, president of the American Turf association, said today the Kentucky derby will be run as scheduled, May 8, despite heavy flood damage in Louisville and near the Churchill Downs race course.

HOMER CANFIELD'S COLUMN

The world will little note nor long remember what we say here—

By HOMER CANFIELD

LAST NIGHT MARTIN GOSCH, head producer of Warner Brothers newly-formed radio division, boarded a train with a role of film tucked under his right wing. His destination is New York.

There he'll stay as well as let four interested sponsors hear the new Dick Powell radio program.

Warner has placed on the market.

Inside grapevine tell us it's the finest thing Dick has done.

As background he'll have Leo Forbstein's 45-piece orchestra.

and Dudley Dick Powell Chambers' chorus of forty mixed voices.

Artists Carol Huxley, Tom Satterfield, Arch Schutt and others are said to have turned out a brilliant score with original music trying the thirty minutes together.

Incidentally, Powell returns to Hollywood Hotel tomorrow night for a pre-hearing of his flicker, "On the Avenue." Tickets for the broadcast disappeared as soon as the word got around.

It might also be well to note here that the Warner Brothers, or, as they prefer, Transamerica Broadcasting & Television Corp., will soon have radio productions starring Edward Robinson, Beverly Roberts, Eddie Peabody, Gus Edwards, Frank McHugh and others for sale.

T. B. & T. C. has also acquired the library of the late David Friedman, dean of gagmen, which means a deluge of the "he said, she said" type of humor when T. B. & T. C. really gets started.

At present KFWB is the breaking in date and keystation for what T. B. & T. C. hopes will develop into a coast-to-coast network.

JIMMIE FIDLER'S COUGH drop sponsor bows out of the picture March 2. However, Fidler goes back to work the following week at the same time and place for a soap account.

Jimmie's recent verbal scrap with the Screen Artists Guild pinned much prestige on his vest. Papers are now being signed that will place him under the exclusive management of the NBC Artist Bureau.

"The Story of Mary Martin," a favorite with morning dialers, shifts sponsors April 1. There's a probability that Joan Blaine, the show's star, will leave the program. A contract with a new sponsor in New York looks very attractive to her at present.

A nervous collapse from overwork put Miss Blaine in the hospital for several days last week. Did you know that Joan also plays Grandma Perkins?

WATER PROCESS AIDS OIL FIELD

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(UP)—The Bradford oil pool, one of the greatest in the world, is attracting the particular attention of operators this year.

They are watching the continued daily average of 385,000 barrels of high-grade oil, the production over a continuous area of 4,000 acres (14 per cent of which lies in New York state), and the success of water flooding operations.

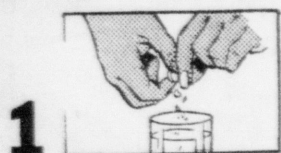

The water process, considered to be impractical in most fields, has been notably successful in the Bradford pool, which operates on a single horizon. This method has bolstered the average annual output of more than 14,400,000 barrels.

This method was started when the pool had almost reached the economic limit of production by ordinary methods. Engineers increased output with artificially-conducted water, forcing it into certain wells to drive oil toward other wells from which it was pumped. Oil was thus recovered that otherwise could not have been reached.

So far 385,050,000 barrels have been taken from the field, according to a recent report, and 300,000,000 barrels, recoverable by present methods, remain underground, it is estimated.

Floating rocks are found in the Tennessee river.

Quickly Ease DISCOMFORT OF COLD with SORE THROAT

1 Crush 3 Bayer Aspirin tablets in 1/2 glass of water.

2 Gargle twice. This eases soreness almost instantly.

3 Take 2 Bayer Aspirin tablets with full glass of water.

As soon as you feel yourself catching cold, follow this modern way. Your doctor, we know, will endorse it. This medicinal gargle will provide almost instant relief from rawness and soreness. The Bayer Aspirin you take internally will act to combat fever and pains which usually accompany a cold. Ask for Bayer Aspirin by its full name — not "aspirin" alone.

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 4.—Settin' Around (Paramount): During the recent cold snaps here in Southern California, a low lying, dark cloud has hovered over the city, circling it on all horizons. It is the smoke from smudges, fired by citrus growers to protect young fruit from frost and ice.

Driving to Paramount this morning, I had the feeling that this smoke was a screen around the city. Hollywood has always seemed to me a world complete in itself, but never more so than today, when it gave the physical appearance of being walled in. In this colony, the motion picture industry occupies the undivided attention of the populace, entirely obliterating the land beyond the mountains that surround us. To Hollywood, the rest of the world is simply a box office.

Entering Paramount, my nose frozen to a nice Technicolor red, I met Ray Milland. He looked frost-bitten, too, and we swapped sheepish grins, but said nothing. We Californians don't like to talk about our bad weather. As I chatted with Ray, a young woman arrived, and apologized profusely to him for being late. To which Milland replied, "I don't mind waiting. Reminds me of the hours I spent warming benches outside producers' offices. Besides, it's good for me. Keeps me from being egotistical." Too bad more stars I might name are not kept waiting occasionally, if it helps lessen the sizes of hatbands.

Two sets I visited this morning offered strange contrast. "Souls At Sea" was being filmed on an old sailing vessel, slowly sinking in a storm. The great stage housing this set was somber and cold—no cold I could see my breath. The actors were wet as seals, and for every retake, Gary Cooper stooped and scooped handfuls of icy water, pouring it over his head so the camera would catch the falling drops. I never saw Cooper so uncomfortable—not even when surrounded by a group of admiring females.

"Walkie! Wedding," on the other hand, was a burst of light and color, a scene laid in Hawaii. Tropical flowers and gaily clad dancing girls, with Bing Crosby and Bob Burns, lolled at ease among them, all on a well-heated stage. Bing may not pick horses very profitably, but he picks his locations right on the nose.

As I talked with Crosby (about horses, of course, that is all he will talk about), Martha Raye dashed up all aglow. "Oh, Bing," she gurgled, "I won $8.60 on the tip you gave me yesterday." The Groomer gulped, "Yeah?" he said. "Well, I didn't take my own tip. I lost a hundred. And, by the way," he added as afterthought, "if you're gonna follow my tip, you better save that eight-sixty. You'll be needing it."

Court Notes

Mrs. Madge Emerick, in a suit on file today in superior court, asks a divorce from Frank Emerick on the ground of alleged desertion. Married at Springfield, Mo., in 1924, they separated May 20, 1934, she states. Her husband took their 3-year-old daughter from her and she has been unable to locate the child, she alleged.

SHAYS' REVOLT ENDED BY U.S. 150 YEARS AGO

PETERSHAM, Mass. Feb. 4.—(UP)—One hundred and fifty years ago today in this western Massachusetts village was struck the blow that finally crushed Shays' rebellion.

The anniversary passed unobserved but only a few months ago a new state highway, Route 202, between Belchertown and Athol, which was financed to the extent of $150,000 by federal funds, was named the "Daniel Shays highway" in honor of the leader of the rebellion that bears his name.

Born at Hopkinton in 1747, Shays served as an ensign at Bunker Hill. He was rated a good soldier and, when discharged from the army, held the rank of captain.

In the wake of the American Revolution there developed the unrest and lawlessness from which Shays' abortive insurrection was born. Specifically the protestants objected to waste in costs of litigation, exorbitant land taxation, and the high salaries attached to public offices.

Badgered Supreme Court In the fall of 1786, some 500 objected to waste in costs of litigation assembled at Springfield and so badgered the state supreme court that it adjourned after an abbreviated three-day session. In November the Court of General Sessions was prevented from meeting at Worcester when Shays filled the courtroom with an armed force.

So alarmed was George Washington by Shays' activities that he remarked: "It was but the other day that we were shedding our blood to obtain the constitution under which we now live—constitutions of our own choice and making—and now we are unsheathing the sword to overturn them."

The federal government enlisted 4,000 men, and borrowed from wealthy citizens to outfit and arm this force. Gen. Benjamin Lincoln, a Revolutionary veteran, was placed in command.

Arsenal Attacked in 1786 On Dec. 25, 1786, Shays led 1100 troops in an attack on Springfield Arsenal. The defending force of 1200 fired on the insurgents, wounding four, and Shays' men scattered in confused retreat.

Lincoln pursued the insurgents from town to town until, in Petersham, on Feb. 4, 1787, there was a final clash in which 150 of Shays' men were captured and the rest dispersed.

Fourteen ringleaders of the Rebellion were sentenced to death but later were pardoned by the Massachusetts governor. As for Shays himself, he moved to Vermont, was pardoned, and then went to Sparta, N. Y., where he was granted a pension for his Revolutionary War service and where he died in 1825.

NIGHT CLASSES OPEN SEMESTER

BY GOLDEN WESTON

The second semester of the adult education department, beginning this week, has enrolled many new students. There is still room for more in most of the classes.

Many men and women are keeping physically fit in the gym, fencing and swimming classes. Yes, women take fencing.

Approximately 15 women attend the woodshop classes. They seem to enjoy it as much as the men, and do some nice work.

More than 4000 men and women have attended classes offered this year. The program is a part of the public school system and no tuition is charged.

Approximately 25 women started on a course in First Aid this week. They meet each Wednesday at 9 a. m. in the Y. W. C. A. J. F. McWilliams plans to do some very interesting things in the class. It is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers association.

Those who wish to better understand the way our government functions are invited to join the group studying civic affairs. The first meeting will be Friday morning at 9:00 in the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. J. D. Campbell is the leader. The class is sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Tonight Miss Clara Cronenwett will give her monthly lecture on flower arrangement in the Willard auditorium at 7:30. She will use winter bulbs. The public is invited not only to attend but to bring an arrangement.

Through the courtesy of Rankin's a very interesting exhibit of student work is on display in their window. It has included pewter, copper, wood carving and craft work.

The new class in Citizenship has 24 members representing 12 nationalities. One member is American born, but lost her citizenship through marriage before 1922. Both she and her husband are preparing for naturalization. Two classes are trained in United States history and civics each year. With very few exceptions these people are able to receive their final naturalization papers in either the December or June courts.

Night classes teaching English for Mexicans are held Mondays at Delhi Center, Wednesdays at Fremont school, Thursdays at Logan Center.

Ted Blanding is repeating the garden course at the Lathrop school on Monday evenings. A large group got much help from this course when it was given at Willard last semester.

The drama class is working on three one-act plays which they will present soon.

Miss Edith Hynes, who has given work in interior decoration here for the past several years, is doing some very interesting work on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the Willard cafeteria. The class meets mornings in order to have daylight for an intensive study of the use of color in home arrangements. Individual problems are often analyzed in the class. It is interesting.

The sketching class has had some very attractive models. Last week a beautiful young Mexican girl in a colorful native costume posed. Good models, good teachers, good students, results, some very nice sketches.

A Spanish class where they really talk Spanish. New students can be accepted now only if they have had at least one year of Spanish.

The new spring wardrobe will be needed soon—many wise women have already started to make theirs—in the sewing classes.

Information about all classes may be had by calling 4260 or 4868 in the afternoons or by visiting some of the classes.

One high school in New York City has 10,000 male students.

Parley Set To Talk New Junior College Plant

OFFICIALS OF ORGANIZATIONS ANSWER CALL

One of the fastest-moving civic enterprises in history of Santa Ana—that of thorough discussion of the proposed construction of a new junior college plant—is expected to be in full swing following a meeting of official representatives of more than 15 service clubs, lodges and other organizations Friday noon at Daniger's.

The original plan was first brought to light Jan. 27 in a speech of Major Carrier before the Kiwanis club.

BOAT LOVERS ATTEND CLASS IN NAVIGATION

Santa Anans are to be cruising the "high seas" before long. One may judge by the earnest studying in the Adult Evening Navigation class at the Julia Lathrop junior high school.

All fall a group of boat lovers have been diligently inquiring into the meaning of Greenwich Civil Time, Declination, Longitude, Azimuth, Altitude, and Dip of the Horizon. And now they are becoming aware of the fact that they possess the secret they had long sought. They can find their position on the earth by observations of the celestial bodies.

This class will continue for the next semester as the advanced class, and those having already taken a beginner's class are welcome. A beginner's class is starting with the first of the spring semester.

PREPARE ELITE OF DOGDOM FOR BENCH SHOW CAMPAIGN

By MAX RIDDLE After the customary fall slump, America's canine lovers once more are preparing dogs for the several hundred dog shows held throughout the country during the winter and spring.

Winter traditionally is the time of the dog show. Puppies are old enough to show, dogs are easily conditioned, and breeders are eager to get a line on the stock being brought out by their colleagues in one of the greatest games of them all.

Last year more than 80,000 dogs were registered in the stud book of the American Kennel Club. More than 70,000 were exhibited. Many of these were exhibited at a dozen or more shows. Out of the mass came more than 1000 new champions.

Few people not actually engaged in the dog show game realize either the expense of showing dogs on big time circuits, or the expense of actually putting on a show.

About half the exhibitors are owners who came forth with one youngster a year, a wish to find out just how hot their young blood is. The other half hire professional handlers to condition and show dogs, and will send dogs to a dozen shows in the hope of winning a championship.

There are a number of great canine campaigners which have been seen more or less regularly at dozens of shows for several years. These dogs already are champions. What they are seeking

TOASTMASTERS CONTEST GOES TO J. WORKMAN

James T. Workman won first place in the speaking contest held by Smedley Chapter of Toastmasters' International at their meeting last evening at Daniger's.

Speaking on "Compulsory Military Training," Workman made an impartial review of the reasons which have been given in favor of and against compulsory military training in land grant universities.

"Where Do We Start?" was the title of the talk which won second place for Ernest Byrne in the speaking contest. Byrne held the attention of his audience with a vivid word-picture of duck hunting regulations as enforced by the average gun club.

T. E. McLeod, speaking on "The Will to Do," told the life story of Doctor Carver, the famous agricultural chemist of Tuskegee University.

The results of the recent shooting match held in Orange County between users of the old style muzzle loading rifles and the modern rifles were discussed by Charles F. Waldo in his talk on "Muzzle Loading Rifles."

R. J. Pearson, speaking on "Delinquents," discussed the underlying causes of both juvenile and adult delinquency in Orange County.

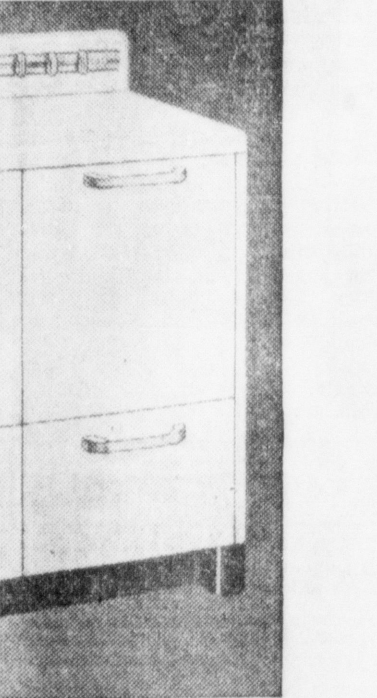

A pleasing innovation in speeches was found in A. T. Kline's book review of Lloyd C. Douglas' "White Banners."

J. Lee Woods gave an interesting account of a trip made from El Paso, Texas, to Chihuahua, Mexico, during the time of the Madero revolt in his talk titled "A Tenderfoot Goes Abroad."

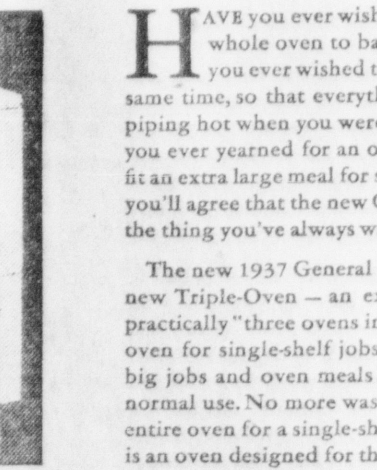

Dwight Hamilton presided as Toastmaster of the evening with Daniel Brown as General Critic and Harry S. House as Dictionary Critic.

In addition to Paul Demaree of Anaheim, former President of Toastmasters' International, club members had as their guests J. T. Osborne, Willard Bauman, L. G. Bachman, Ray Griset of Oceanside, Toastmaster's Club and Henry Rosch, President of the Orange Toastmaster's Club.

637 STUDENTS AT JAYSEE ENROLLED

A total of 637 students have registered at Santa Ana Junior college, it was announced by Registrar Mabel G. Whiting, in a preliminary check-up today. This slightly exceeds the total at the same time last year.

Many students have not registered because of illness, Miss Whiting said. The figures will be increased considerably when the students return, she revealed.

The enrollment of the college is expected to reach at least 700 students. Many are registering this time.

Tenth Wedding Date Inspires Party Details

When Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Schmid arrived from their Garden Grove home to share last night's meeting of their contract club with Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Edwards, 828 North Baker street, they were met with a pleasant surprise.

For Mrs. Edwards had learned that the date was their tenth wedding anniversary, so she gave prominence to a bridal theme in all appointments of an interesting evening. To Mrs. Schmid she presented a corsage cluster of white hyacinths and maidenhair fern tied with silver gauze ribbons, while other snowy blossoms were grouped with white tapers about the home.

Wedding bell tally cards were used in contract play, in which prizes for high scoring went to Mrs. Charles Russell and to Olin Turner.

For serving a salad course with its accompanying ribbon sandwiches, tea and coffee, Mrs. Edwards arranged card tables with all-white linens and centered each with a white pottery bowl of violets and maidenhair fern. The final touch of wedding sentiment was given by the serving of a three-tier bride's cake in which Mr. and Mrs. Schmid saw a miniature wedding party that recalled the ceremony a decade ago.

Full Club Membership Enjoys Bridge With Mrs. Newcomb

So many interruptions to the winter's schedule of Wednesday Dessert club meetings have occurred, that yesterday when Mrs. Fred Newcomb Jr. entertained in her Tustin avenue home, it seemed quite remarkable—and most enjoyable—to have the complete list of members present.

For serving her dessert course, Mrs. Newcomb grouped her guests around the big dining table, charming with its damask as a background for the glowing scarlet of the prevailing decorative theme. Tally cards and nutcracker showed the prevailing sentiment of romance in both color and design, while sprays of flowering quince, so charming as a centerpiece, glowed with the same deep fire.

Covers were placed for the hostess, Mrs. Newcomb, Mrs. George Kenneth Scovel, Mrs. Kenneth H. Sutherland, Mrs. Robert Mize, Mrs. Clarence Nisson, Mrs. Howard Rapp, Mrs. Orlin N. Robertson, Mrs. Loyal K. King, Mrs. Jack Fisher and Mrs. Harry Westover. Scores recorded on the Valentine tally cards showed Mrs. Rapp as high, and to her went the afternoon prize.

By ANN MEREDITH

A young-man caller casting longing eyes at the piano, finally admitted that he did some pretty good amateur rambling-over-the-keys. That was the start of the idea we had for inviting a crowd of young people in for Sunday supper last week. Weather was frosty and appetites were healthy to say the least, so this is what was planned for the party (quantities to serve eight):

Baked onion soup in oven-proof ramekins
Green rice ring with creamed shrimp and tuna
Hot baked ham with German potato salad, served hot
Pickles, olives, celery
Hot French bread with garlic butter
Coffee and tea.

For the onion soup, 2 quarts of sweet onions were peeled, put in a tightly covered saucepan with a quarter-pound of butter and 1-4 cup water. This simmered on a low flame until the onions were reduced to a third of their volume (this done in the morning). Then we added 2 cans of chicken broth, salt and pepper, additional water to make soup to fill the ramekins. A crust of French bread was put on each dish of soup, plenty of nippy cheese grated over crusts, and the soup was baked until the cheese was runny and brown.

The green rice ring and hot cream sauce were served at one end of the table, the baked ham and hot potato salad at the other. Believe it or not, it was nip and tuck between the two dishes. This is the recipe for the rice ring.

Combine 4 cups cooked rice with 1 cup, each, chopped parsley and celery. Add 1-2 bunch green onions, chopped fine, salt, pepper, paprika and steak sauce. Four eggs were used, yolks beaten and mixed with rice along with 1-8 pound butter (half of a cube) and 1 cup heavy cream, whipped stiff. The egg whites were beaten stiff and folded in last. The ring was baked in a pan of water, 40 minutes, oven medium.

The sauce used a pint of cream sauce, 2 cans of shrimp and a can of tuna, nicely peppered up adding mayonnaise.

The hot potato salad was made while supper was being prepared. We used a big bowl of hot potato cubes, seasoned with onion and parsley. The sauce used a cup of diced bacon, fried, a teaspoon of dry mustard, paprika and a dash of salt, blended with 2 tablespoons of flour and the bacon fat. One-third cup wine vinegar and 1-1/2 cups water were then added and cooked to make the sauce. Sliced hard-boiled eggs garnished the top of the salad, arranged on a big platter.

The recipe for our baked ham was given not long ago, but here it is again:
Parboil for 1 hour the bigger end of a prime ham. Skim it and apply a thick paste made by sifting 2-3 cup flour with 2 tablespoons dry mustard, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and allspice, 1-2 teaspoon ground cloves. Maple syrup was used to make this into a paste, the ham was covered thickly (fat side) and returned to its wrapping of parchment paper. Then it baked slowly for 2 hours, was lifted from the paper wrapping, dusted with sugar and glazed quickly under the broiler flame. It sliced down in thin pink slices with a taste you'd expect to find in Rector's or some equally famous restaurant.

I hate to say anything about "diet" after talking about such food, but if you want our Safe and Sane diet, it's yours by writing for it, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEWS OF ORANGE AND VICINITY

CITY AWARDS CONTRACT AT COUNCIL MEET

ORANGE, Feb. 4.—Eight bidders sought contracts for disposal of the city's garbage and refuse, when the council met last night. J. B. Craig of Monterey Park, was the successful bidder with a bid of $225 a month. The contract extends over a three-year period. Terms of the contract allow for disposal of refuse on the city dumping grounds if the contractor desires. Thomas Johnson of Orange has had the contract for a number of years.

Other bids were submitted by the following: M. E. Jones, $244; J. L. Smith, Los Angeles, $285; Robert Stover, Santa Ana, $234; Ernest Houser, $248; H. L. Mellock, $248; Chastain Transfer $310; B. A. Roach, Santa Ana, $279.

Appointment of Miss Leona Nauman as desk sergeant followed the acceptance of the registration of Miss Billie Muffelman who has served in this capacity for several years. Miss Nauman will receive $3.50 a working day until she is experienced in her duties when she will receive $100 a month. The sum paid Miss Muffelman. Other applications were read from Miss Verda Marten, Miss Nelle Crist and Mrs. Matilda Neherhood.

Mayor A. Croxton Boice was authorized to sign for the completion of work on a wall at the city park done by the Santiago Storm Water district, the sum of $474.07 being returned to the city by the district. A resolution to pay salaries semi-monthly instead of monthly was laid over until the next meeting, February 17, until the city attorney can ascertain if the proposed change would necessitate two city council meetings a month.

Councilman Carl M. Carlson made a motion, seconded by Councilman Henry Bandick, that dinner expenses of city councilmen and department heads at meetings of the Orange League of Municipalities be paid and $1 allowed for the use of the car in which they ride. Benefits to the city brought about by work of the league were pointed out.

Purchase of an adding machine for use of the water department was authorized, the machine to cost $250 with an allowance of $55 on the old machine no longer usable.

Wading Pond

The addition of a wading pond at the city park in order to use allotted WPA labor was discussed. Councilman Cal D. Lester favored putting the plan in operation in 1938. Mayor Boice stated that tentative plans were for a pool 20 by 30 feet and from one foot to 18 inches deep, containing at its deepest point at one end a half foot of water with a depth of about two inches at the other.

A project for a park bandstand will be outlined shortly while a WPA project already approved for curbs, sidewalks and gutter will be underway as soon as C. C. Bonebrake, city street superintendent, has recovered from an illness, it was stated.

Appointment of a deputy assessor was deferred until a meeting to be held February 17 and the city clerk, T. H. Elijah, was asked to make a number of contacts in order to fill the office by March 1, for a three months period. Frank Dale, city building inspector, stated that an increase in building activities this year and an expected additional increase with the consequent electric, plumbing and building inspections made it impossible for him to accept the position this year.

COUNCIL VOTES TO INSTALL "SCHOOL GIRL" ZONE SIGNS

ORANGE, Feb. 4.—Traffic signs fashioned to represent small school girls are to be installed, at what are considered two of the most hazardous school crossings in the city, those of the Intermediate and the Orange Union high school on North Glassell street, and at the West Orange school on West Almond avenue and Pepper street, according to action taken at the meeting of the Orange city council last night.

The installation of the signs, similar to ones recently put in use in Santa Ana and the idea for which is credited to Officer J. W. Foster of that city, was requested by the Orange 20-30 club. Stan Wilson and V. G. Wolfe, the latter a member of the Orange police force, representing the organization, appeared before the council stating that the club wishes to share the expense of putting up the signs. The city will furnish $5 toward each sign and the club $3. Four signs will be used at first and more will be added later if they prove satisfactory, it was decided.

Traffic citations for the month were reported by George H. Franzen as nine, with arrests totaling 13; city business licenses collected $847.77; taxes collected $1508.12, and dog licenses, $2. Frank Dale, building inspector reported $120.45 in fees and $8982.39 was reported in the library fund. W. J. Richardson, water superintendent reported that the water levels in the city wells February 1 was 295 feet and that 18,529,000 gallons of water was used in January.

A free license was granted to members of the American Brotherhood to sell flowers on the streets February 20. Application for the privilege was made by Mrs. Blanche Baker, secretary of the organization which assists the blind.

TRIP TO HOLY LAND IS TOLD AT GATHERING

ORANGE, Feb. 4.—Rabbi Harvey B. Franklin, of Los Angeles, was the speaker last night at one of a series of church night programs when he told of what he had seen on a recent visit to the Holy Land, later showing motion pictures of scenes in that country. Work on soil erosion similar to that in the United States today, was done in ancient times in Palestine, the Jewish leader stated. Terraced hills in many parts of the country, he said, bear evidence of soil conservation measures.

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

The Island That Was A Ship

ON Ascension Day in 1501, Joso da Nova, Portuguese navigator, anchored off the rocky shore of a small island that stood out almost in the middle of the South Atlantic. He called it Ascension, but it was not until 1815 that a British garrison occupied it. British ships stopped there, and their captains became commanders of the island.

From 1844 to 1922, as a result of this practice, Ascension Island actually was under control of the British admiralty and was listed in the admiralty records as a "ship." It was used officially as a coaling station. In 1922, however, the island was placed under the jurisdiction of St. Helena, some 800 miles to the southeast. Its population is only about 300, and its chief attractions are the many green turtles that are picked up on its shores, and the "wide-awakes," or sooty terns, that breed on one of the island plateaus.

Ascension began issuing stamps in 1922. The one shown here is from a series produced in 1934.

An unusual display will be a block of four of the famous "Goya nue" stamps issued by Spain in 1839 in commemoration of Francisco de Goya, famous Spanish painter. This stamp was a reproduction of the artist's painting of a movement was begun to have the United States post office department refuse to allow the stamp on letters to be transmitted through the mails.

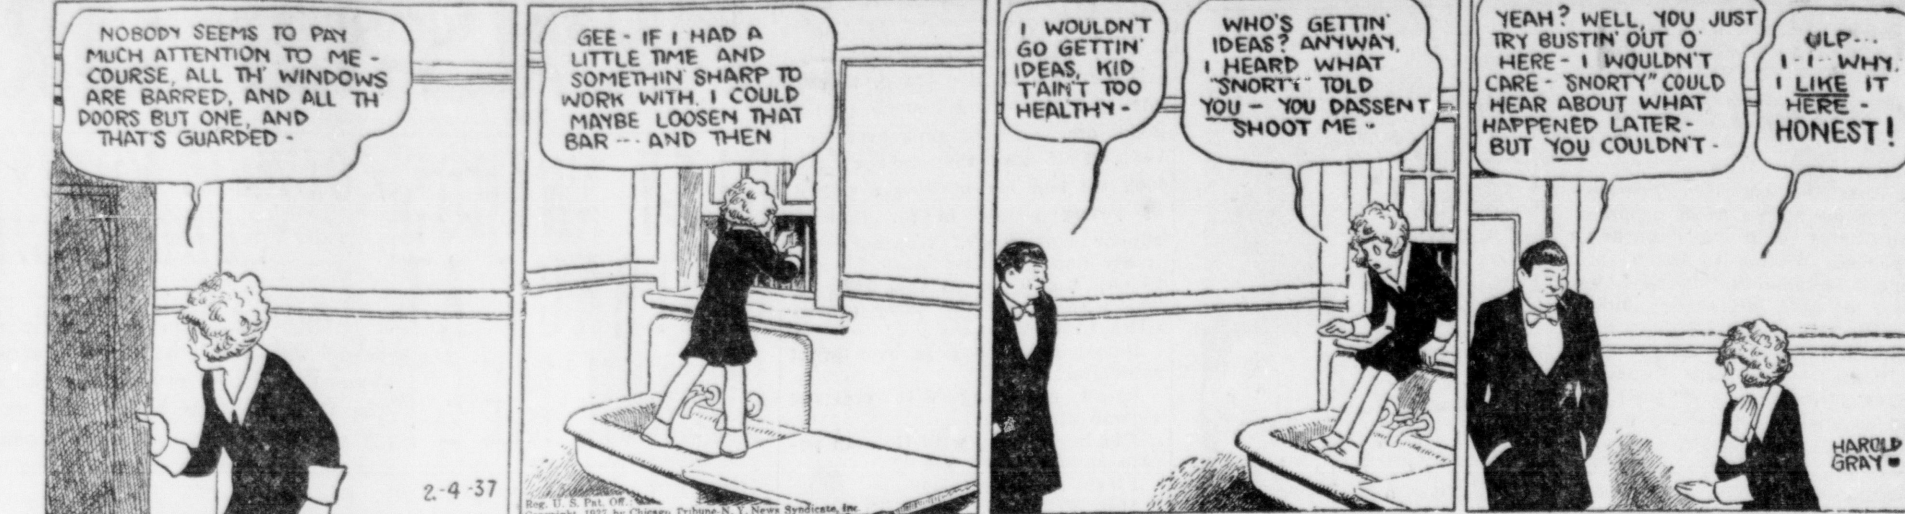

According to the story about the famous canvas, the Duke of Alba heard the artist was painting a nude picture of his wife and planned to surprise the artist at work. But Goya heard of his plans and sat up all night painting another picture of the duchess properly attired.

When the duke saw the second canvas, he apologized and became the artist's patron.

LAGUNA CLUB MEN CONVENE

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 4.—With C. Addison van Loenen presiding, Orville X. Goodrich acting as toastmaster, Walter A. Lamb officiating as general critic, and Lawrence A. O. Barfield being dictionary critic, when Toastmaster's Club No. 1, of Laguna Beach held its dinner meeting this week. Five speakers were heard, their utterances being panned upon by critics, to the edification of the twenty-five guests, which well-nigh filled the banquet-hall of the Brass Rail, at which the proceedings were held.

George Ritchie spoke on "The Cost of Peace," being criticized by H. N. Shuler, who, by the way, is a nephew of the redoubtable Bob Shuler of Los Angeles; Joe Frenette chose as his topic, "Boatleg Coal"; and Leo Wilson gave Mr. Frenette his needs in the way of criticism. William Ajax Wolf spoke on a subject entitled: "Stealing from the gold mine," in the course of six minutes proving that fact outstrips fiction. Nevertheless, Mr. L. A. O. Barfield acted as Mr. Wolf's critic. C. A. van Loenen spoke on a topic close to his heart: "I'm glad I live in Christian America." Hall Myers criticized Mr. van Loenen's talk; but that others besides the speaker were glad to inhabit America was proved, in some slight measure, by the fact that Mr. van Loenen was adjudged winning speaker of the evening.

W. R. Hoover, speaking to the point, had brief but succinct words to say on "Being a Deputy Governor," the deputy-governorship involved being that of Toastmasters, deputy-governor of which, for this district, Mr. Hoover is... Jack Baker, acting as critic for Mr. Hoover, did his best; but anyhow, Hoover remains district governor, Baker or no Baker....

Several new members were welcomed into the Toastmaster's fold, among them being: Heche Palmer, Wm. W. Wright, and Leonard Tuttle, these admissions filling the roster of Laguna Beach Toastmasters Club, which, constitutionally, is limited to thirty.

Anti-Picketing Law Passed By Laguna Council

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 4.—By a three to two majority, the Laguna Beach city council last night passed an anti-picketing ordinance; the three being Mayor Mallow, Councilman Howard G. Heisler, and Councilman Charles F. Jester. The minority comprised Councilmen Randolph Baldrige and Thomas Cummings. During the open hearing which preceded passage of the ordinance, Robert Bowen, representing the Carpenters Union, Local 1648, was heard, he expressing concern over what he considered an unnecessary, provocative piece of civic legislation.

Councilman Jester related a story dealing with one of his truckmen who presuming to venture into Wilmington, was confronted by pickets, who would not let him pass. Hence, said Jester, his vote for passage of the anti-picketing ordinance. Which thus becomes law, as far as Laguna Beach is concerned.

Grief prevailed earlier in the evening, when the condition of certain streets in Laguna Beach, said to resemble quagmires, was fetched to the attention of the city councilmen by Henry Weeks. No action was taken by the council.

A delegation from American Legion Post 222 conferred upon the council official presentation of the ornate desk-clock set won as trophy by the Laguna Beach entry in the New Year's Day parade in Pasadena. Of four such entries made by the local Legion Post, all have been prize-winners. In accepting the gift, Mayor Mallow and Councilman Cummings felicitated the Legion for its civic service to date.

The city authorized the purchase of a new police car, equipped with radio. There were three bids submitted.

THE name "albino" comes from the Latin, Albus, meaning white, but not all white animals are albinos. In a true albino, pigment, which normally develops in the tissues, is lacking. Not only is it lacking in the skin, but in the deeper tissues as well. Pink eyes in albinos are the result of red blood vessels showing through.

BREA, Feb. 4.—Mrs. E. D. Gaylord of Los Angeles was the guest speaker yesterday at the meeting of the Congregational church guild, Mrs. R. M. Ross presiding.

Mrs. Gaylord was presented by Mrs. C. O. Harvey, program chairman. She spoke on "The Negro in America," declaring the educating, Christianizing and socializing of the race the most gigantic task any nation has been called upon to solve. In this field, Mrs. Gaylord declared the Congregational church has been a pioneer, having first launched the idea of education for the Negro of the southern states. The speaker was accompanied by Miss Mae Eaton of La Jolla, a long-time friend.

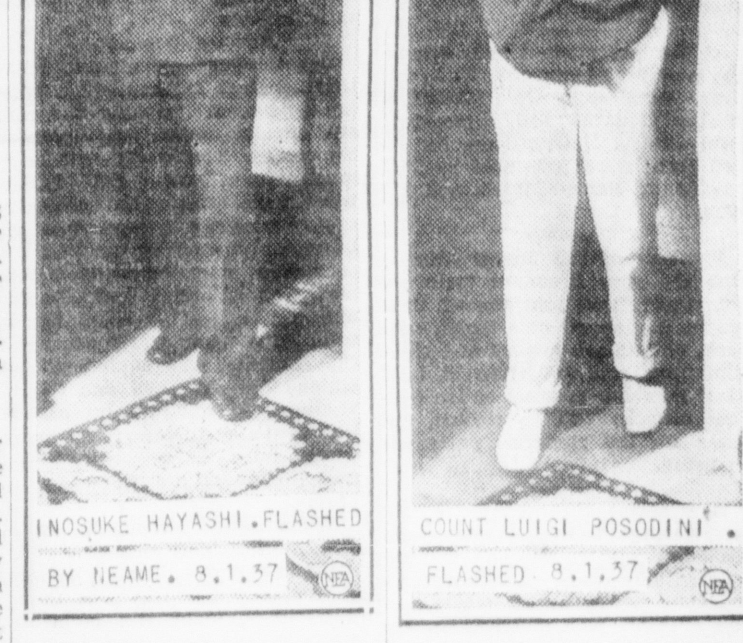

Devotions were in charge of Mrs. C. R. Negley, with Mrs. R. W. Phelps assisting at the piano. Plans were announced for a birthday dinner to be held in the social hall on the evening of April 14. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of drapes for the windows in the hall and for buying communion cup holders for the church pews.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. L. A. Hogue and members of her circle, including Mrs. Harry Yarbrough, Mrs. A. H. Brown, Mrs. M. E. Easton and Mrs. Cecil Baker. Valentine colors and motifs were employed in appointments and favors.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

Also, this monopoly would have considerable value for whatever company acquired it since, if they wished, they could float a subsidiary company upon the prospective profits which the monopoly will bring and thus attract considerable new public money to their business.

K: And you were about to sell this monopoly to either Rocksavage or Blane?

H: That is so. I have been negotiating by correspondence with both for some time. A fortnight ago, however, Mr. Rocksavage cabled me that negotiations could go no further until after a conference he proposed to hold on this date. He suggested that I should join the party and said that, if I did so, he had every reason to believe that the affair might be concluded to the satisfaction of all concerned. I sailed from San Francisco to Panama and from there I came overland to join his yacht at Miami.

K: I see. That will do.

DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAME'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF COUNT POSODINI.

P: Hello! Hello! Has this writing room been converted into a photographic studio overnight?

K: No. Come in, Count. It's just that we're taking a flash of all the guests on board before we examine them. Matter of routine, that's all. Sit down, will you? There are just a few questions I'd like to ask you about this unfortunate affair last night.

P: Fire away, friend, fire away!

K: Okeh. Now, would you mind telling me what your movements were from the time the yacht sailed till you went in to dinner last night?

P: There's no mystery about that. I was having a drink in the lounge with Mrs. Jocelyn when the engines started to turn over. A few moments later Mr. Rocksavage joined us. He was another spot with him and then Blane's secretary, a chap called Stodard, came in and made himself known to us. We had another round of drinks to keep him company while he was taking some notes of share prices off the board for his boss. The lounge steward took these down to Blane's cabin for him and came up to say that he couldn't get any answer to his knock, so Stodard told him to take them down again and push them under the cabin door.

Just after that I said I thought it was about time to go below and change.

K: Can you tell me what time that would have been?

P: About a quarter of eight. Mrs. Jocelyn said she thought she would go down, too, so we went down together, after which I went straight to my cabin.

I came up to the lounge again about 8:25, and when the dinner bugle sounded most of the guests were assembled there.

(FROM THIS POINT COUNT POSODINI'S STATEMENT CONFIRMS THAT OF THE OTHERS.)

K: Now, Count, what d'you know about the real motive for this party?

P: Real motive? There's only one as far as I know—stealing a little summer down in these waters before New York becomes livable again. I'm just mad about sunshine, but maybe that's my Italian blood.

K: D'you mean to tell me you had no idea that an amalgamation between the big soap interests was to be negotiated during this trip?

P: That's news to me. The only thing that I know about soap is that it's useful to wash with. I didn't know either Blane or Rocksavage.

K: But if you've never had any dealings with any of these people can you give me a satisfactory explanation as to why Rocksavage invited you to join this outfit?

P: He didn't. It was Reggie

The drive followed a breakfast at the Sherman hotel here and concluded with that of districts in a tea at the home of Mrs. Albert Launer in Fullerton. Such funds are to be used for the Girl Reserves activities in their respective high schools, for summer camp vacations and for conference gatherings. There are now 40 Girl Reserves in the Brea-Olinde Union High school and 60 in the Brea grammar school.

Jocelyn who asked me if I'd like to come along for a few days' sunshine and big-game fishing.

K: How long have you known Jocelyn?

P: I met him coming over on the Normandie, and later developed the acquaintance in New York.

K: Thank you, Count. That'll do for the present.

DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAME'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF THE LOUNGE STEWARD, JACK CANE.

K: Come in, Cane. I just want to ask you a few questions about what occurred last night.

C: Yes, sir.

K: How long have you been in the employ of Mr. Rocksavage?

C: A year and three months, sir.

K: What were you doing before that?

C: I was third barman at the Biltmore in New York. I did eighteen months there and before that I was at the Sporting Club in Havana, doing lounge waiter.

K: That's all right now, I want you to tell me all that you can remember about which guests came and went from the lounge from the time of the ship's sailing until they went in to dinner last night.

(CANE'S STATEMENT CONFIRMS THE TIMES OF ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF THE GUESTS FROM THE LOUNGE, AS GIVEN BY THEMSELVES BETWEEN THE TIME OF SAILING AT 7:05 AND THEIR GOING IN TO DINNER AT 8:40.)

K: Were you in the lounge the whole of that time?

C: Yes, I was there the whole time, sir, as they kept me pretty busy mixing drinks, except, of course, for two brief absences between 7:40 and 7:45. Mr. Stodard took down some figures from the notice board in his pocket book, tore out the leaf and asked me to take it down to Mr. Blane's cabin. I knocked and there was no reply, so I took it up again and then Mr. Stodard remarked that Mr. Blane was probably in his bath, so he sent me down with it again and told me to slip it under Mr. Blane's door which I did.

K: That'll do. You can go now.

DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAME'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S SECOND EXAMINATION OF THE HONORABLE REGINALD JOCELYN.

K: Sorry to bother you again, Mr. Jocelyn, but I understand that Count Posodini joined this party at your invitation.

J: Yes, that's right.

K: Now, what part does he play in this business deal which Rocksavage, Blane and the Jap contemplated putting through?

J: None at all. He doesn't know anything about it.

K: Why did you ask him then?

J: Because he's a nice fellow and I thought it would give the gathering more the appearance of a pleasure trip to have someone there who didn't know anything about the business which was contemplated.

K: I see. How long have you known him?

J: About five weeks. I met him coming over in the Normandie.

K: Thank you, Mr. Jocelyn. That's all for the moment.

P-T. A. ACTIVITIES

Nomination Occurs When P-T. A. Meets

Nomination of officers took place Tuesday morning when members of Santa Ana Council P-T. A. took initial steps to launch a new schedule of procedure called for by the revised by-laws which will be voted upon in March. Acceptance of the revised rules will change the opening of the association's year from June to April, it was indicated Tuesday when the by-laws were given second reading.

Those nominated were Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, president; Mrs. E. H. Elsner, first vice president; Mrs. Dale Elliott, second vice president; Mrs. Rufus Bond, secretary; Mrs. Harry Becker, treasurer. Election of officers will take place in March, with installation scheduled for April.

Named on the fabrication committee were Dr. Hester Olewiler, chairman; George Calhoun, Harry Becker, E. D. Froese and Harold Greenwood.

Mrs. Mitchell conducted Tuesday's meeting in the absence of Mrs. John J. Mills. Mrs. Harry Becker announced that annual Founders' Day luncheon will be held Friday, February 26 at 12:30 p. m. in First Christian educational building. Reservations should be made by Wednesday, February 23, it was pointed out. Presentation of a Council life membership certificate to an active P-T. A. worker whose name was drawn yesterday will be made during the luncheon.

Tentative plans were announced for a president's conference which Mrs. Mills will conduct in her home early in March. Definite date for the affair will be determined in the near future.

Mrs. Ray Adkinson announced that students of the city are displaying interest in the penny drive which will be conducted in the schools February 12. Proceeds from the event will go to the junior college student loan fund, it was pointed out.

Edison Members Plan Benefit Party For Tomorrow Night

Edison P-T. A. committee workers report that plans are completed for a benefit party to be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the school kindergarten room, where tables will be set up for games of bridge, 300 and monopoly.

Proceeds from the public affair will go to the school's milk fund, which is quite low at present, it was reported today by Mrs. Harold Moorman, president of the association.

Mrs. George Pickett is general chairman of the party, working with committees including Mrs. Moorman, Mrs. Raymond McMahon, Mrs. Norman Crowley, Mrs. Lawrence Brown and Mrs. Stewart Gibbs, entertainment; Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Paul Butler and Mrs. Sidney Messenger, refreshments; Mrs. Clinton Rowe and Mrs. Moorman, preparation.

Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

Dr. Stella Davis, president of the association, will direct her officers in this business meeting. The Founders' Day program will be held in connection with the regular meeting of the association in the following week.

High eight art classes are interested in making interiors for any room of a house, while high nine classes are making raffia and yarn purses and painting cork mats. High sevens are binding books.

General science classes under Ferris Scott's direction are displaying some very interesting notebooks.

Miss Bernice Hart's general language classes have been displaying activity projects on "How all languages have contributed to the English language." Each student works out his own idea of the contributing factors. Some of them showed boats, carrying words to other shores, some drew scrolls and some modern-minded ones had the telephone and radio as language distributors. The combined English-Spanish book reports which this class has been doing have proved to be very helpful in creating a valuable background for the language itself.

With the beginning of the new semester, classes are electing new officers. Those for Miss Blythe's home room are as follows: Frances Brando, president; Ruth Ames, vice president; Emmy Lou Brooks, secretary; Johnny Bridwell, boys' athletic manager; Corydon Burnett, sergeant at arms, and L. G. Bush, reporter.

Reporters for the newspapers have been newly appointed from Miss Blythe's high eight English class. They are Glenna Jean Etchell, Alice Knudsen, Dorothy Hermans, Nannette Hubbard, Ralph McAndrews, Lavonia Craig, Ruth Anderson, Bertha Birdsal, Carol Chittok and Kenneth Lindall.

Boys' physical education classes are still very interested in speedball and basketball noon contests. Scores to date show that Mr. Baker's home room has won four games; Miss Cornell's, five; Mr. Orr's "I" team, three and a half; and Miss Blythe's three. Mr. Orr's "I" team has also won three games.

Basketball champions are Miss Kline's home room with five games; Miss Carl's three; Miss Hazel Thrasher and Miss Cornell's rooms tied with a score of two; Miss L. Thrasher and Mrs. Wolff's classes each had five games; Miss Adams and Miss Henderson four each; Miss Nickelson's class a score of five games; Miss Higgins, four, and Mrs. Hill's and Miss Hart's three each.

At the last student body assembly, new presidents of I. X. L. and Every Girls' clubs were introduced by the student body president, Paul Cleary. New officers for the two clubs were presented by their presidents, Nancy Morris and Bill Was.

Members of the Junior Literary club are very proud of their new pins which have just arrived. They are in the shape of a small, open book, with black enamel and silver trimmings, and the letters J. L. C. At the Friday meeting of the club, new officers will be elected, and plans for the Valentine party will be made.

New social clubs will be organized during the Friday home room. Students wishing to join will get applications from the office. These must be signed by all teachers of the student. The membership will be limited. Teachers who will sponsor the clubs are Miss Tummond and Mrs. Crumrine, Puppet club; Miss Nickelson, Stamp club; Mr. Archer, Tennis club; Miss Calkins, Miss Blythe, Junior Literary club; Mr. McQuarrie, Recreational Art club; Miss Carl, Social Games club.

College Coeds Now Encounter Less Snobbery

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

The little girl who always had a sea-blue sash on her party frock and the one who wore her mother's cast-off calico, abbreviated to accommodate her lesser inches, may hold hands in the Vassar daisy chain on the sunny day that Poughkeepsie girls encircle themselves with greenery and love. True, the girls can't be debutantes together with an equal chance at the young eligibles of the marriage system. That's not important, though. The girl who used to wear calico probably knows several boys who will be photographed just as far as Park Avenue's best tailored Romeos.

Wealth and family pride, the custom and usage of generations may foster class distinctions, but young America, free and gallant and gracious, is gaily knocking them over like so many ninnies. That is why a girl at Vassar is given a chance to prove her worth as a person, without producing a bankbook.

But to get down to the solid facts: It is revealed that more than 20 per cent of the Vassar undergraduates receive their education with the aid of scholarships—360 of the 1200 girls. This comes as most welcome news to those who long have feared that snobbery was a hearty perennial, fostered in our land through the segregation of the children of the wealthy in certain schools, while the rest of the sons and daughters of the republic obtained degrees at cross-road colleges or state universities.

Not a New Trend

The cross-road colleges and state universities economically and intellectually rate equally high with the blue-ribboned educational seats. Time after time they have proved their equality, sometimes their supremacy. That is not the question at issue. It is the fact that the congregating of the children of the wealthy in exclusive groups formerly tended to inspire a social nobility, which now is being broken up.

Not is this democratic mingling a new thing. It has been coming about through the process of the years. In fact, it has been 20 years since the New York Vassar club, composed of the alumnae of the college, adopted a scholarship program, through which some worthy and promising girl each year would be allowed to attend the college. For the past 15 years the New York club has conducted an annual benefit drive by sponsoring one of the regular Metropolitan Opera performances. There are 21 cities in the east and middle-west working on similar scholarship projects.

Toward Democracy

Doubtless other colleges, whose traditions are old and whose crests are golden, are making the same fine strides toward an increased democracy. The world will be so much freer, braver and happier when superficial social structures are swept away. Always there will be an aristocracy of kindness, of scholarship and scientific attainment, of gallantry and chivalry. Men are not created equal, a thousand governmental documents to the contrary. The equipment with which they are born and the advantages of environment contribute to their success. Therefore, when false barriers are swept away, chances are fairer for everyone.

When every woman's college joins in the daisy ring of unprejudiced acceptance of any girl whose character and ability pass the requirements, there will be a finer spirit in the figurative league of students of all colleges.

WEEKLY OPINIONS

Furnished by Wm. Cavalier & Co., 516 North Main Street

STANDARD STATISTICS: Uncertainties presented by the deadlock in the automobile strike and by the temporary setback to middle western business resulting from floods remain potent obstacles to a sustained advance in the general market from this level. Clarification of these uncertainties may be a matter of only a few weeks, or it may be a month or longer. Meantime, market movements are quite likely to be inconclusive, punctuated by intermittent rallies and declines within the broad range of recent months. The process of discounting further important expansion in earnings and dividends will, however, probably be resumed this spring. Basic economic prospects are too favorable for any other forecast of the longer term outlook, however serious the uncertainties of the moment may appear. This is a time to proceed cautiously in making new commitments, avoiding any risk of becoming overextended in the event of sharp contemporary weakness and maintaining some reserve buying power for future opportunities. It is a time, therefore, for careful switching to improve price averages.

MOODY'S: The market continues to display many cross currents and a policy of rigid selection is still counseled. The large range features of most stocks is well assured, but many issues and groups are at prices giving relatively full reflection to near term prospects.

BABSON'S: It is only fair to say that no one can forecast with certainty the time or extent of intermediate declines, or be sure that they will occur. The higher the market goes, however, and the longer the time advance consumes, the more likely these reactions are to take place. It must be recognized that long-pull markets are made up of intermediate upswings and corrections. Most investors make more money by holding carefully selected stocks for the long pull regardless of temporary setbacks, and it is upon this long-pull viewpoint that our service is based. However, we recognize that some people do attempt to take advantage of temporary setbacks or feel nervous in an intermediate decline. To those who have we advise keeping some liquid funds.

UNRECORDED BUSINESS SERVICE: The plentitude of investable funds and the fact that securities are either owned outright or very heavily margined, will prevent the development of any major bear market at this time. Nevertheless, market factors are unquestionably more evenly balanced than they have been for a long time. For those who seek profit in the management of investment funds, more patience, better information and more careful judgment as to what and when to buy or sell will be necessary from now on than in the past few years of general market advance.

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Profit-taking reversed an upward trend in wheat prices here today and substituted a downward movement. A cent a bushel for early gains of about the same amount.

The market opened higher in response to gains in foreign markets and indications of renewed buying of soft wheat by English millers. European importers, milling interests, commission houses and local processors were aggressive. The strength in foreign markets largely reflected purchases of several cargoes of Australia wheat by English millers and buying of Argentine grain by Spain and Germany.

Corn followed the reports of import buying abroad as a bullish influence in both foreign and domestic markets. Selling pressure, however, was unfavorable in France and Germany. Crop reports from the domestic winter wheat belt are not very favorable.

Corn followed the early advance plans on to a higher level. Selling pressure later that forced prices down for small lot sales.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(UP)—

Stocks advanced today under lead of oils and steels. The Dow-Jones industrial average made a new high since 1929 and then encountered profit-taking that brought irregularity.

Opening prices were firm and traders cheered lustily when U. S. Steel reached 100 for the first time since July 1, 1921. The initial decline involved a half million dollars in bunched orders.

Nearly all the steels tired, the oils took over the leadership. Railroad equipments were strong for the considerable selling later. Utilities did a little better than their counterparts. Session of contracts on Commonwealth & Southern with TVA on power purchases from the company. Coppers were mixed, most common stocks lower and farm issues higher.

New highs were made by Bethlehem Steel at $47 1/2 up 1 1/2; Crucible 6 1/2 up 1/4; Gulf States 7 1/2 up 1/4; Republic 10 1/2 up 1/4; and Vanadium 3 1/2 up 1/4. Reports were circulated that Republic and Gulf states were to merge. Coppers were mixed, most common stocks lower and farm issues higher.

Merger rumors would raise prices for the second quarter. Meanwhile operations held at a high level.

REDUCE SMUDGE MENACE

After this year, there can be little excuse for any orange grower to continue the use of old-fashioned smudge pots. His neighbors and dwellers in nearby communities have been extremely patient with him, and have suffered losses entailed by having their homes filled with oily smoke. This year, however, if by firing he has saved his crop, which will doubtless be sold at high prices, he will make enough so that he can well afford to put in modern heaters.

After all, only about 15 per cent of the orange and lemon growers fire their orchards. Many others believe that in the long run they get by about as well as those who use heaters, and in so doing are not causing damage and suffering to their community. The question is one over which arguments can be heard in any household, and upon any street corner. Whatever side one may take, it is certain that a large acreage will always be fired in this valley, and that acreage is likely to be increased as a result of this year's experiences.

Since that is so, it would seem as though it is only reasonable to expect Farm Advisors, Farm bureaus, horticultural commissioners, citrus experiment stations, growers organizations and individual growers to take every means at their command to reduce the smudge menace to a minimum. Whether the field of improvement lies entirely in betterment of heaters or in development of wind machines, such as are reported to have been used successfully at Duarte, or in use of some of the surplus electricity that we are promised is to be developed under the Boulder Dam and Metropolitan Water Districts projects needs hardly be discussed here. What we are trying to say is that communities of Southern California in general are entitled to all the improvements possible in the smudge situation, and surely among those improvements in this area can be listed the doing away of heaters that throw out great quantities of particles of unburned oil. That much, if nothing more, should be done this year.

If that's not a reasonable proposition, what is?

Perhaps one of the best arguments against smudge pots is that advanced by Dr. R. M. Langer, physicist of the California Institute of Technology who says "the breathing of all the solid greasy carbon matter in smudge-laden air is unhealthy, irritating to mucous membranes and conducive to continuance of influenza."

Other authorities believe that the temperature in areas overcast with the smoke is decreased at least 10 degrees and possibly as much as 20 degrees during the day.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE

We hear a great many people remark that they are very much incensed with the Lewis organization occupying the plants of the General Motors by the sit-down strikers.

We cannot see that it makes much difference whether the strikers occupy the plants, even if they are private property, or remain just outside of the property and prevent by force and intimidation others, who desire to work, from occupying the property.

It is, of course, easier for the strikers, by occupying the property, to prevent people from working than it would be to be obliged to prevent them from entering the property. It also gives them protection when they are striking. The principle, however, of people's rights in property is just the same.

If the people of this country decide that owners of the General Motors do not have the right to manage and direct their own property, it will not be long until the owners of any little farm, any little factory or any little store will not have the right to occupy and have the benefits of their own property.

The General Motors firm is making a stand on fundamental principles as to whether there are to be human rights in property or whether the fruits of work and abstaining are to be enjoyed by others by a method of force and civil war. That is a problem the people in the United States will have to decide sooner or later. It is a vital problem of the age.

WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION

The Metropolitan Water District now is making rapid progress again on a $220,000,000 aqueduct to carry water from Parker, Ariz., on the Colorado River to Southern California.

The tremendous size of this task is demonstrated in the fact that the water must be lifted to an elevation of 1606 feet at various points before it finally will flow by gravitation into the Cajalco storing reservoir.

The aqueduct surmounts the huge natural barriers of mountains and deserts; there are tunnels and open channels; and clarifying basins.

Five pumping plants will be put in operation to lift the water and maintain the flow. Operation of these plants means that the M. W. D. will be the best customer for use of electrical energy generated at Boulder Dam, using one-third of the total output.

The M. W. D. will sell the water wholesale to various unit members at the rate of $15 an acre foot.

Orange county as a whole can become a unit of the district, and take advantage of its price. It is up to the county as a political subdivision. Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, as most residents are aware, already are members.

If the county as a whole joins the district, we are told by an authoritative source that the most economical means of distribution to northern and southern points of the county, would be the construction of a feeder line that would necessitate the boring of a five-mile mountain tunnel. The project would take three years for completion.

Approximately half of the 6,000,000-acre feet of underground water, at 100-foot depth, of the coastal plains, embracing this area, was extracted up to 1933. There has been no appreciable replenishment of this loss in the last four years.

We are told it may be desirable to lend softening treatment to Colorado river water for domestic use. On the other hand, the same water will be more advantageous for agricultural use than the water now used in Orange county. The water is absolutely guaranteed to be sterile.

Construction of the aqueduct, which will begin supplying water the latter part of 1939, means the continued development of this area, and the saving of present property values.

If there were to be another drought, such as the prolonged disasters in this area prior to 1905, Southern California would suffer more than a $300,000,000 loss, or virtually $100,000,000 more than the cost of the aqueduct.

In face of this entire situation, not to mention the fact that Orange county cannot be adequately supplied until at least three years after it makes its decision, we believe everyone should begin immediate serious consideration of the matter. When it comes to an issue, investigate all the facts beforehand, and place support accordingly.

NOW IS THE TIME

Someone has said that a college graduate should go to school again after he has been a graduate for 10 years, that by the end of a decade, he has forgotten his "books" to a large degree.

Not only should such a man go back to school after 10 years in the workaday world; he should keep on trying to learn more and more, year after year, through a conscious effort. The wisest thing any man or woman can do is to keep on being a student all of his or her life whether he or she ever studied at college or not.

Many of the world's wisest men never had opportunity of setting foot upon a college campus in their youth. But they had the urge to learn, and learned.

Nowadays, facilities are so near at hand in most communities, we have little difficulty in becoming students, if we wish to become students, whether we are 8 or 80.

This week mark opening of the Adult Education department's second semester, here, under direction of Mrs. Golden Weston. Besides all of the courses offered during the first semester, seven new courses are being offered for the second semester. If you have an urge for knowledge—and most of us do but many of us lack the energy to get away from the line of least resistance, a line that would lead us away from knowledge—you may join any of the Adult Education classes you wish to join, today, or later. But, of course, delay is to be associated with the line of least resistance—which is something worth while remembering.

DANGEROUS WIDTH

Arnold H. Vey, state traffic engineer for New Jersey, has been studying accidents on New Jersey highways and has learned some surprising things. The principal one of these was the fact that narrow roads seem to be safer than wide ones.

Two-lane highways, he said, have fewer accidents than three-lane highways, and three-lane highways have fewer accidents than four-lane highways.

On a two-lane road, the motorist doesn't try to pass the car ahead until he is sure that the road is clear. On a three-lane road, he is less careful. Give him four lanes, apparently, and he is apt to go weaving all over the place, regardless of traffic conditions.

Engineers can do their level best to give us safe highways. But until they find a way of giving us safer drivers, the traffic problem will still be acute.

RETRIBUTION

The recent brutal slaying of a Michigan state trooper galvanized the police of three states into cold, furious action. Within a few days a youth with a long crime record was captured, confessed, and was sentenced.

The story is just another instance of the way in which officers of the law, stung by the killing of one of their own, leap to avenge his death. In searching for a person involved in an ordinary slaying, policemen go about the task calmly, detachedly. It is just another job of work for them.

But when a policeman is murdered, it is a direct, stinging slap at themselves and at the majesty of the law. They can always be counted upon to deliver retribution just as direct, just as painful.

Crime statistics undoubtedly would show a marked change if policemen interpreted every slaying as a contemptuous insult of the law, which it is in every degree.

Timely Question

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

WINDMILLS?

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Strange things are being said in Congress. Debaters seem to be taunting windmills. Little outside attention has been aroused, even when Rooseveltian chairman Ashurst of the senate judiciary committee speared an unidentified tyrant the other day. Spoke he:

"In all tyrannical governments, no monarch, no tyrant, makes any progress whatever unless and until he seizes in his hands the legislative, the executive and the judicial powers. . . . The first thing a wise, prudent, scheming, subtle monarch in Europe does, if he wants complete control, is to seize legislative, executive and judicial powers."

This usually mild administration devotee then spoke at length against the control of the judiciary by old British kings, and some of his democratic colleagues cautiously chimed approval, although there was no bill pending to establish a tyrant, a king, or a British system, and no one had raised the question.

The same day, in the House, the democrat Pettigill spoke more guardedly of tyranny and "the pseudo-liberalism" going around. Said he: "A movement toward concentration of power at a single point or in a few hands may or may not be justified by the march of economics, but it cannot be described as a liberal movement."

He likewise neglected to identify the "single point."

WARNING

When Senator Borah took the air with a profound speech about those who "connive at the courts through strained and doubtful construction (legislation?)", flinching from the people power which the people have not granted. He quoted George Washington's words: "Let there be no usurpation," and urged that "before the final pillage takes place" the people be consulted through forthright constitutional amendments.

Mr. Borah likewise neglected to identify any convivers, pillagers or usurpers, but he also hit mysteriously at despotic British kings. In fact, half his address was the story of the British struggle to maintain freedom of the courts so that the people may defend themselves against politicians.

As Borah is a Republican, and as Mr. Roosevelt announced three weeks ago he did not like constitutional amendments, the target of the Republican senator's remarks was somewhat clearer. In fact, he left the definite impression he was attacking something Mr. Roosevelt was going to propose, but he did not say what.

ANGLOPHOBIA

All this sudden interest in British methods and tyrants can hardly be quixotic. Aroused legislators seem to fear they will be faced with some unannounced something, and apparently the root of their fears is this:

Certain Democratic Congressional leaders, with extraordinarily good avenues to white house viewpoint, have been conveying the impression privately among their colleagues that Mr. Roosevelt has been thinking about the British constitutional way of doing things. The British system is substantially this: Never amend, just change; never repeat a constitutional provision, just adopt a new law. This inside interpretation of the President's possible purposes has naturally frightened most of his congressional friends. They have noted that many of the innovations already enacted have been modeled on British acts: Social Security, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Twagwell Satellite Cities, the coming Wagner Housing Bill, the dollar devaluation, the stabilization fund, and others.

TREND

This is all right with most of them, as far as Mr. Roosevelt and wages and hours legislation are concerned, but they are afraid to scrap our system of judicial checks on government forever. They want Mr. Roosevelt to get whatever definite power he needs from the people through a constitutional amendment submitted to them for ratification. This will save the judiciary and the American system.

The way things are going now, they will probably be successful. In fact, their fears may be unnecessary. Mr. Roosevelt seems to be just analyzing different methods. The uproar among his congressional friends against "change-by-indirection" has only been partly disclosed. It is really something unnameable. In the end, it may cause him to espouse a constitutional amendment against his wishes, provided, of course, that the supreme court fails to disclose sufficiently large constitutional loopholes in the forthcoming Wagner and holding companies decisions.

COOPERATION

It has nothing to do with the constitutional squabble, but Anglo-American cooperation is progressing satisfactorily, sub-surface. The new move to put the neutrality law on a "cash and carry" basis will satisfy British objections to signing a trade agreement. State Secretary Hull objected to that

After school I went down the cellar for no special reason, and I started to wonder what would happen if I suddenly had to be an ashman and roll cans of ashes without any practice, so I started to practice on a can about a quarter way full of ashes, and it was pretty heavy but I rolled it about a yard, and then I tried a can about half as full on account of feeling more experienced, and it was heavy as lead but I rolled it about a foot, more by pushing and pulling than actual rolling, and even then I was more perspired and dirty than what I was tired, proving how strong I am for my size, and just then somebody called down, Benny, is that you down that cellar?

Being ma, and I said, Yes mam. Why, ma?

Me hoping it wasn't for any special reason, and ma said, What are you doing?

O, nothing, I'm just down here where I want you, those newspapers and old magazines have to be arranged in neat piles so the junkman will condescend to weigh them. Now don't try to pick up too many at once, because you're not strong enough, she said, and I said, Well G, ma I'm libel to get ambitious and straine a mussel, and anyways, jimminy, ma, I been down here breathing nothing but this old dirt for about a half hour, so celler for about a half hour, so I don't get out pretty soon and change to some fresh air my lungs mite start to get rusty.

O my lands all rite, such a boy, I'll let Mr. Seavers do it, he needs the work anyway, now get out of that cellar and stay out, ma said.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

OCCASIONAL PARTIES

How often should a fifteen-year-old girl be allowed to go to parties in the evening? She attends high school and gets many invitations, but her father and I think she ought not to go out evenings during the school week. She may go at the week-end, but not during the week as we fear it interrupts her studies. She thinks we are wrong.

I think the girl is wrong. School is a serious business. It requires about all the spare time a student has if he is to keep up to standard. These days there is no room anywhere for the young person whose record shows barely passing, or odd failures, or lack of effort. Business scans them with critical cold eye; colleges say flatly: "We don't want you. High marks, a record of attention to duty, and success in performing it is demanded of students. The common agreement among the elders is that any boy and girl of ordinary good sense can get a good rating from his high school.

That is true. But the good sense has to be applied earnestly and steadily to make the grade. Taking a day off, easing on the hard subjects after a curtailed rest, skipping a class in order to take nap, or to have a chat with a date, work the very mischief with school work. Steady day-by-day attention is the very least a student can do and hope to pass with any degree of credit.

Single-mindedness is necessary for success in school. The boy or girl who is interested in a social group, who is the life of the party, the leader of the stunts and the "affairs" cannot be the successful student because the time is limited and can be used just once.

Students need sleep, regularly. Going to bed at nine one night and two o'clock the next, means a broken rhythm for body and mind, and neither of them function well under that handicap. Bedtime and rising hour must be set by the clock and followed accordingly the school year round if efficiency is to be maintained.

After the week's work is finished there comes a feeling of satisfaction and freedom that makes for deep enjoyment of whatever pleasure is afoot. There is no weariness, no worry about neglected work, no thought of having to get back early to do a bit of work that the teacher has demanded short of a complaint note to father. The road is clear for fun, and the body and mind are both ready for it. Half the joy of a party lies in having a good appetite for it, and a good week's work creates that.

The week-end ought to taper off by Sunday night so that the last evening before school opens again can be spent quietly and happily at home. The success of a school day depends largely on what went before. If the student had a good night's rest, rose on time, followed schedule and got to school rested in mind and contented in spirit, the end is assured. It must be good.

School is the important business of youth. Nothing should endanger its success. Everything should be done to insure it.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

LEWIS AND THE BUSINESS MEN

The quality, the temper, and the technique of labor leadership and of business leadership are matters of decisive importance to the American future.

A great strike such as John Lewis has been conducting affords case studies of both leaderships.

Men are not always as good as the causes they lead.

You do not necessarily damn a movement when you debunk its leader.

High enterprises may, at times, use faulty instruments.

A rather damning indictment of John Lewis can be written with nothing but facts for ink and honest reporting for pen.

Personally I do not trust Lewis. He is a man of inordinate personal ambition.

He has the ruthlessness that has made gangsters.

He has the lust for power that has made Fascist dictators.

He is a rabble rouser extraordinary.

The full and factual story of the Lewis career has not been told.

But all this has nothing to do with the fact that, in modern industries in which the craft is no longer the distinctive and dominant factor, industrial unionism is a valid movement in line with historic necessity; all this has nothing to do with the fact that collective bargaining, under modern industrial conditions, is elementary justice and intelligent technique.

It is one of the major obligations of great business leadership to take the initiative in fitting these two techniques of collective bargaining and industrial unionism into the modern business structure.

If American business leadership generally accepted and executed this obligation, the ugly aspects of labor warfare would disappear, time would bring responsible leadership to the top in the ranks of labor, and the basic issues of negotiation—techniques, wages, hours, and working conditions—would be determined in collaboration rather than in conflict.

The fact is that, in this age of vast productive power, what is good for labor is good for business, and vice versa.

Under such circumstances, it is indefensible that the national life should intermittently be made the victim of a jungle warfare between industrial forces whose interests are so intimately interlocked.

DRIVER OR NOT A DRIVER

TORONTO, Ont., (UP)—Magistrate J. Brown has raised a fine legal argument over when a man is driving a car. Brown dismissed a reckless driving charge when a motorist whose car was allegedly describing an irregular course claimed he was not the driver because the car's engine was off and the car roaring.

BIRD SETS CHURCH FIRE

SYDNEY, (UP)—A novel reason was suggested for a fire which broke out under the eaves of the roof of the presbytery of St. Mary's Cathedral here. The suggestion was then advanced that a bird picked up a lighted butt of a discarded cigarette and carried it to a nest in the eaves.

MOTOR PROGRESS

HONOLULU, (UP)—Molokai, most typically Hawaiian of all the Hawaiian islands, has purchased a motor ambulance, first of its kind ever seen there.

Yet the sad truth is that some great and good men once read Nick Carter and some of the meanest were raised on the Yellow Kid Companion.

If he favors giving the President more power, he is assuming that we'll always have a President like Roosevelt.

A conceited man is never consistent. He doesn't think much of his wife's taste, and yet she picked him.

Current history teaches us it isn't so easy to send an ultimatum if you may be breathing poison gas next day.
